Cub Scouts from Pack 300 in the Parksley area pile up canned goods and other provisions they collected as part of the National Scouting for Food program conducted by the Delmarva Council recently. The boys collected the food and other donations during two weekends at Dollar General in Parksley and by approaching their neighbors. The goods will help two local families and the Eastern Shore Coalition Against Domestic Violence. Coleman Will Challenge Lewis for Northam’s State Senate Seat

By Linda Cicoira

Republicans picked Norfolk businessman Wayne Coleman last week to be their candidate in an upcoming special election for the 6th State Senatorial District seat.

Party canvasses conducted in Accomack, Northampton and Mathews counties and in parts of Norfolk and Virginia Beach showed nearly 54 percent of participants favored the CEO and owner of CV International, Inc., a logistics services provider Coleman will face Del. Lynwood Lewis, a Democrat and Accomac lawyer.

“I’m grateful for the support I’ve received in every corner of the district,” Coleman stated on his campaign website. “But now the real work begins and it’s time for us to unite as a party to defeat Lynwood Lewis.”

Coleman got a total of 1,643 votes, beating out two Norfolk lawyers who were also seeking the Republican nomination. Richard Ottinger received 1,249 of the ballots, nearly 41 percent, and John Coggeshall garnered 173 votes, nearly 6 percent.

A breakdown of polling places showed Coleman with 214 votes, Ottinger 137 and Coggeshall 8 in Onley; Coleman 78, Ottinger 72 and Coggeshall 6 at Parksley; Coleman 128, Ottinger 95 and Coggeshall 1 in Chincoteague; Coleman 97, Ottinger 7 and Coggeshall 1 on Tangier; Coleman 134, Ottinger 182 and Coggeshall 6 in Mathews County; Coleman 764, Ottinger 678 and Coggeshall 140 in Norfolk; Coleman 218, Ottinger 51 and Coggeshall 10 in Northampton; and Coleman 10, Ottinger 27 and Coggeshall 1 in Virginia Beach.

The Senate seat at the heart of this contest is the one being vacated by Lt. Governor-Elect Ralph Northam. The governor has not set a date for the special election because before he does so, Northam must resign from the Senate.

Housing Numbers Disclose Many on Shore Receive Housing Subsidy

By Linda Cicoira

More than 3,800 people in Accomack and Northampton counties are living in households that receive Section 8 rental assistance, according to a report of the Accomack Northampton Regional Housing Authority (ANRHA).

Of those, 223 are elderly, 1,606 are youth and/or dependents and 863 are considered disabled.

Fifty-three are units in project sites, including 22 at Accomack Manor, 26 at Mill Run and five at Saw Mill.

in Northampton are in that category, the report states.

David Annis, director of housing development, told members of the Accomack County Board of Supervisors last week that there are 538 vouchers allocated for the jurisdiction.

“Currently there are 512 vouchers under lease within the two counties — 344 located in Accomack County and 168 located in Northampton County,” he said.

Fifty-three are units in project sites, including 22 at Accomack Manor, 26 at Mill Run and five at Saw Mill.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (F&W) and local partners are poised to receive and invest $553,425 in the construction of two living shoreline projects and two acres of oyster reef on Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge that will help restore and rebuild the refuge from impacts associated with Hurricane Sandy.

Portions of both the Beach Road and the Service Road were extensively impacted by the storm surge and wave energy associated with Hurricane Sandy and nearly washed out. The loss of these roads would affect both the tourism associated with access to the ocean beach and F&W's ability to manage the natural resources on the refuge.

“This project provides a terrific opportunity to help protect and increase the long-term resilience of both productive natural systems and man-made infrastructure in the face of climate change impacts at Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge,” said Steve Parker, director of The Nature Conservancy’s Virginia Coast Reserve. “The Conservancy is very excited to work with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the National Park Service, the Virginia Marine Resources Commission, and the Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries to increase the resilience of one of America’s most visited, economically important, and beloved national wildlife refuges.”

The two living shorelines and the oyster reefs proposed for construction under are intended as natural infrastructure to increase the resiliency and capacity of the Beach Road and the Service Road to withstand future storms.

“In addition,” stated Kevin Holcomb, supervisory wildlife biologist at the refuge, the restored oysters associated with the living shorelines and the oyster reefs will provide ecosystem services such as nutrient removal, uptake of sediments, water filtration, increased water quality and increased biomass in the two coves, and provision of habitat for other marine organisms.”

Middle- and high-school students and parents of SPARK (Shore People Advancing Readiness for Knowledge) recently chose to help a local saltmarsh. Along with a local volunteer and students from East Stroudsburg and Shippensburg universities, the families removed Phragmites from a Chincoteague Bay Field Station (CBFS) property in Greenbackville. The group of more than 30 parents, children, field station staff, and university students and faculty contributed well over 100 hours to initiate the first phase of a year-long, multi-faceted restoration project that involves invasive species removal, oyster and marsh habitat restoration and water quality monitoring.

The project is being funded by a $64,400 Innovation Grant from Toyota Together Green, a national conservation program of the National Audubon Society and Toyota.

Shippensburg University faculty member Sean Cornell is leading the restoration effort, along with CBFS Education Director Anne Armstrong. Noted Cornell of the completed work, “The hope and vision for restoration that we have shared over the past few years was made real and tangible for the first time. By joining forces with an inspiring organization from the Eastern Shore like SPARK, the Chincoteague Bay Field Station and its partner universities have taken the first steps to realize a shared dream for a healthier and more productive coastal environment.”

CBFS has five more volunteer days planned. On Monday, Dec. 16, CBFS will be at the county supervisors’ meeting at Greenbackville Fire Department to discuss the project. The next volunteer day will be Dec. 17 from 9 a.m. to noon, when volunteers will help CBFS put oyster shells into bags for shoreline stabilization and for future reef-building projects. Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Anne Armstrong at anne@cbfieldstation.org or call 824-5636.
So This Is How We Spend Our Money

By Linda Cicoira

Accomack and Northampton folks must be skilled in the ways of Black Friday since they told the Eastern Shore Post in a recent email survey about all the shopping they expertly do during the rest of the year.

On average, participants wrote they annually buy 53 rolls of paper towels, six tubes of toothpaste, 17 gallons of milk, seven pounds of bacon, nine heads of lettuce, 11 pounds of coffee, 45 apples, 118 bananas, 481 cans of soda, 37 loaves of bread, 23 cans of corn, 28 pounds of cheese, five bottles of ketchup, 227 rolls of toilet paper and 11 boxes of tissues.

About 46 percent said they drink bottled water. An even 50 percent said they like to shop. The respondents spend an average of $319 a month buying groceries.

In order, the top things their money goes for is their mortgage, groceries, gasoline, rent, car payments, medical expenses and other bills.

They also disclosed that on average, they eat beef or chicken three times a week. Pork is served twice a week and turkey, seafood and fish are offered once a week or less. Fifteen percent of the people said they eat turkey only on Thanksgiving.

Dawn Conquest of Onancock shops for groceries at least once a week and spends an average of $150 a month. She doesn’t drink soda or purchase bacon, coffee, lettuce or cheese.

“Why buy pens when you can get them free somewhere!?!” she said. Conquest doesn’t buy canned corn. “I like it fresh,” she disclosed. “My sister eats toilet paper, I think! I buy at least 40+ rolls a year.” Conquest buys bottled water “because I do not like the taste of tap water.”

“I try to do my bulk shopping twice a month but only spend about $200 a month on food,” said Nathan Metzger of Onancock. He drinks bottled water. “Yes, I grew up drinking city water and don’t like well water.” Metzger also doesn’t like to shop. He finds what he needs online “every time I have to purchase a present.”

Michael Stephano of Cashville said he spends the bulk of his money on health insurance and gasoline. About $250 a month is spent on food. He doesn’t pay for pens. “Someone must buy them. I don’t. I never have a shortage though. Is that wrong?”

Among his answers to eating meats, Stephano wrote, “Although I do not hunt, I do receive a couple of deer every year through friends. I enjoy eating venison. … I am constantly fishing and eating my catch. I have access to oysters, clams, crabs and a variety of fish.” Stephano purchases bottled water. “I buy a couple cases a year for the boat cooler,” he explained.

Bobby Carroll Huether of Pungoteague said it is “very rare” that he buys bottled water “because of the BPA’s (Bisphenol A, a carbon-based synthetic compound) in plastic containers. I have VERY GOOD well water and carry my own glass bottle.”

Huether doesn’t like to shop. “I like to have my list ready, go straight to the store, get what is on the list (and) LEAVE!” But online shopping is a different story. “I like to browse Eastern Shore Trash and Treasures/Craigslist and just see what’s out there. I do this about four times a week.”

Adelaide Hollandsworth of Onley spends the most money on doctor’s bills. She shops for groceries twice a month for a total of about $300. Hollandsworth would rather shop for clothes.
A Sanford teenager was acquitted last week in Accomack Circuit Court of maliciously shooting at a school bus last spring.

Aaron Scott Kent, 19, of Sugarhill Lane pleaded not guilty to the charge. He was accused of shooting a BB gun at Accomack Schools’ Bus 33, leaving a dent below one of its windows.

Two 9-year-old boys who were passengers on the bus as it traveled on Ridge Avenue in Hallwood on June 4 testified that they saw Kent shoot at the vehicle.

In another case, Larry Persell Payton, 42, of Dennis Drive in Parksley was sentenced to 10 years in prison for burglary at Carla Harmon’s house on March 20, 2012, and 10 consecutive years for grand larceny of property belonging to Fred Darby and Farm Bureau around the same time. All but two years and 11 months was suspended.

Jamar Antwyn Smith, 32, of Grayson Avenue in Exmore was sentenced for distributing cocaine in November 2011 to 10 years in prison, with all but the time between sentencing and transportation to detention and diversions centers suspended.

Northampton District Court

A 50-year-old Capeville man has been accused of abducting his girlfriend, according to records filed in Northampton Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

John Davis Bull Jr. of Lankford Highway was charged with detaining Nicole Lewis against her will, a felony, and assault and battery of a family or household member, a misdemeanor, in connection with an alleged Nov. 17 incident.

The case was transferred from the county’s General District Court Monday.

Lewis told police that between 9:30 and 10 p.m. she kissed Bull on the cheek to wake him up. “He didn’t respond so she got on the floor and started playing with the dog,” Sgt. S.C. Kellam of the Northampton County Sheriff’s Office (NCSO) wrote in a criminal complaint filed with the court.

“Nicole says Mr. Bull woke up and kicked her in the chest and she landed against the wall. Nicole said he then grabbed her and threw her around the room. She asked him for the phone and he would not give it to her,” the officer reported. “She finally got the phone and he threw her on the ground, put her hands behind her back. He eventually let her up and she tried to leave through the garage door several times and each time he would pull her back in and throw her around some more. She eventually left around 3 a.m. on Nov. 18, 2013,” Kellam concluded.

Secured bond was set at $3,000. A hearing was scheduled for Jan. 8. According to a checklist for bail determination, the defendant “has an attitude … Bull states that he is the victim and was assaulted.”

Onancock Christmas Tour Set

On Dec. 14 from 2 to 6 p.m. Onancock’s Business and Civic Association will hold its 14th annual Christmas Homes Tour and Music Festival, offering several first-overs.

On the tour will be the home of the fifth generation of a prominent Onancock family. A classic example of Eastern Shore residential architecture of the early 1880s, this elegant Victorian has undergone additions and renovations in keeping with the dictates of the original structure while adapting to present-day living. Featured are pedimented façade, deep bracketed eaves, round-headed windows and highly decorative trim, which includes lace work cutouts and ornamental tracery.

Also part of this year’s tour is West House. Upon entering the elegant 1920s house, guests are met by an open, staircase that rises to a third-storied, dormered, open attic space. Rooms, still in progress and as yet unfurnished by the “new” owner, offer classic details. The first-ever treat is that the owner invited local organizations, art groups, and designers to “deck the halls.”

Another tour first-ever is a New-York style loft that offers a 2,000-square-foot space plus solutions to concealing ductwork and merging two spaces divided by thick brick walls.

Also for the first time, three tour homes are residences of local artists. Creativity and inspiration abound at the sixth tour home, a restored Dutch colonial of the 1940s with panoramic views of Onancock Creek.

Historic buildings alight with holiday decorations and open to the public during Onancock’s Christmas Homes Tour include:
- Naomi Makemie Presbyterian Church, built in 1895 in the country gothic style;
- Historic Cokesbury Church, which once again hosts the Music Festival:
  - 3-3:50 p.m. Orchestra of the Eastern Shore
  - 4-4:50 p.m. Waterfront Band
  - 5-5:50 p.m. Marilyn Kellam, mezzo soprano; Stefan Dulcie, accompanist
- Ker Place, the town’s most prominent Georgian style historic home, built in 1799;
- The Harbor Master’s Building, a new addition to the town’s historic wharf. It is here that Santa’s arrival by boat is expected at 11 a.m. He will be accompanied by his reindeer in kayaks.

All the sites on the tour are arranged for easy walking tours. Shuttle bus service will be available for ticket holders. Only the six homes require purchased tickets, available for $20 through several local outlets, including Thomas Gardens, Book Bin, Red Queen Gallery, The Bank Coffee House, C.D. Marsh Jewelers, Yellow Duck Café or visit www.onancock.org.

On the day of the tour, tickets will be available at Ker Place, the Onancock Historic School on College Street and at any of the homes on the tour. Proceeds will benefit Eastern Shore Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Friends of Onancock School.

Cape Charles Assistant Town Manager Bob Panek updated Town Council last week on the status of the Public Service Authority (PSA) with regards to the proposed wastewater lines that would run from the area near the Cape Charles Traffic Signal.

The initial proposal considered by the county Board of Supervisors called for owners of the properties in the affected area to pay an additional tax based on a 25/75 split with the rest of the county as a way to fund the pipeline. Following public sessions, the supervisors agreed to delay implementation of the project. Panek said that a 50/50 tax structure is being considered.

Councilman Frank Wendell questioned why the town and the PSA should be involved in such an effort when the town’s Comprehensive Plan calls for no commercial development near the highway because of possible competition to business interests in town.

Council also received a tourism update from Kerri Allison of the Eastern Shore Tourism Commission, who noted that while tourism is not as high as she would like, efforts to attract more tourists to the area continue to move forward. Allison said the commission is looking at new ways to try to attract additional visitors.

Town Planner Rob Testerman reported that Bayshore Concrete has modified its request regarding construction of two 250-foot piers on the south side of the harbor entrance. The piers now will be less than 250 feet, eliminating the need to encroach into the Federal Channel as well as the need for a wave screen.

Testerman also reported that a request had been received to modify property owned by Bill Parr to construct a one-room hotel near Kelly’s Pub. There was some question as to whether there is such a thing as a one-room hotel, but Testerman noted that the Town Code does not specify a minimum number of rooms for an establishment to be a hotel.

Public Works Director Dave Fauber reported that there is a need to replace equipment at one of the town’s wastewater pump stations. Fauber noted that the state Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) is pressing the town to get the work done and that the condition of the pumps is adversely affecting the capacity of the new wastewater treatment facility.

Town Manager Heather Arcos stated that work is progressing on modifications to the former library building on Tazewell Avenue that will be used for town meetings and other town activities. The FY 2014 budget includes $40,000 for the improvements. Arcos said the building should be ready for council sessions by early 2014.

Council discussed recommendations regarding the reuse of water processed at the wastewater treatment facility. Panek said the town is authorized to discharge an average of 250,000 gallons per day (gpd) of treated effluent. The current average flow is about 150 gpd. One possibility for reuse is in the Bay Creek lake system for irrigation purposes. The wastewater treatment facility budget includes $270,000 for water reuse for the construction of a pipeline to Bay Creek, incorporation of reuse capability at the plant, and a survey of the Bay Creek lake system for the storm water analysis required by the DEQ.

Council voted 4-1 to support the proposal. (Councilman Wendell voted against. Councilman Steve Bennett was absent.)

Council agreed to submit a request for funding to the Board of Supervisors for town projects, including the library, a computer training lab, a fireworks display, public beach operations, and an offshore breakwater.

Additionally, the town is requesting that the county continue its efforts to provide emergency services after Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital in Nassawadox closes.

The Artisans Guild of the Eastern Shore will sponsor a Holiday Studio Tour Friday through Sunday — Nov. 29 through Dec. 1 — from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

To take the free, self-guided tour of 11 studios, galleries, and workshops plus a vineyard and winery, look for tour signs with red bows on Lankford Highway. Light refreshments will be available.

Tour guides with maps are available online at www.esartisansguild.org.
Metompkin Mammography Earns Top Rating

The digital mammography services offered at Riverside Shore Medical Center at Metompkin once again have received the highest rating available from the Food and Drug Administration’s Mammography Quality Standards Act (MQSA) annual inspection.

Congress enacted MQSA in 1992 to ensure that all women have access to safe and reliable mammography for the detection of breast cancer in its earliest, most treatable stages.

The inspection evaluates equipment, policies, and performance, as well as the credentials and training of physicians and staff. Surveyors also evaluate the mammography facility's quality indicators, including proper image identification, reporting and documentation.

“We're very proud to again be fully certified with no deficiencies,” stated Matt Booth, director of radiology. “This confirms what I see from our certified mammography staff every day — their dedication to the safety and good health of our patients.”

The digital mammography equipment, staff and processes at Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital passed the same inspection earlier this year.

Animal Control provides food and shelter to abandoned, unwanted, lost or stray kittens, cats, dogs, and puppies. They place more animals per year than any other group on The Eastern Shore. Some animals do not make it. Animal Control, however, does their best to reunite those lost pets with their families, find rescue groups that will take the animals until they are adopted and even provides adoption services at their facility. This is only a fraction of what Animal Control does and is responsible for in our community. Right now, Animal Control needs your help in providing suitable food for their kittens. They desperately need canned food that is ground up or paté in any of the following brands: Special Kitty (Walmart), Home 360 (Food Lion), 9-Lives, and Purina. Animal Control contributes so much to our community that is not known or even recognized by our citizens and now they need our help. Book by Local Author Examines Gospels

According to Reiter, when properly translated, this yields different interpretations than usually understood. “While the book is written in a scholarly manner,” Reiter explained, “the interested layman will understand the various passages I have translated and may find them interesting, even helpful in understanding the life and teachings of Jesus. … I have made the Gospels, and particularly the life and teachings of Jesus, a life-time of study. This book is the result of many years of research and contemplation.”

It is available at Eastern Shore Public Library.

Reiter was ordained a Methodist minister and served actively for 17 years, including five years as a Navy chaplain doing tours of service in Vietnam. He holds a graduate degree in divinity and did further graduate work specializing in the New Testament. Born in western Virginia to a Southern Methodist minister, Reiter spent most of his boyhood days on Delmarva, including one year in Quinby, attending Central High School. When he retired from the Naval Reserve, he moved to Harborton, then to East Point.

I would recommend this place to anybody who loves peace and quiet. Everybody minds their own business. There’s no loud music. And, the landlords keep this place up really nice.

BIG CHANGES FROM BEFORE

We moved here 2 years ago to be closer to my job. I took one look at this place, and said, “That’s the one!” We love it here - it’s very quiet and peaceful. Ms. Grace is not just a landlord, she’s a friend.
- Jeffrey Hampton, park resident

This park is quiet, and I like it. There’s no more walking the streets at night. I asked God to send someone to clean up this park. The Lord’s come through. They’ve got this place real nice. I’m glad they’ve got rules.

N andua inducted its second class to the school's Hall of Fame last Thursday when Lawrence Burton, Dennis Custis, Ben Askew and Larry Thomas were presented for induction. Last year's first class included Coach Trent Serini, Coach Thomas Parks, T.J. Washington, Tony Washington, Buck Boggs and Kim Giddens. Nandua principal Brian Patterson said the intent of the Nandua Hall of Fame is to recognize those individuals who excelled in athletics or supported the athletic program to a high level, including those schools that were the predecessors of Nandua — Central, Onancock and Mary N. Smith.

Lawrence Burton was the valedictorian of the Mary N. Smith class of 1970, the last graduating class of that school. A member of the Purdue Sports Hall of Fame and a 2013 inductee in the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame, Burton was an All-American flanker at Purdue University and first-round draft pick of the New Orleans Saints in 1975. Burton was also a world-class sprinter, finishing fourth in the 200 meters in the 1972 Summer Olympic Games in Munich, Germany. In 1974, Burton starred for the Purdue Boilermaker football squad and was the team captain and MVP.

Burton also starred on Purdue’s track team, earning four Big Ten titles and an NCAA title for the 200-meter dash in 1972, and tying a world record of 5.9 seconds for the 60-yard dash.

Burton retired from the NFL at the age of 28 because he felt a calling to serve youth. He became a counselor at Boys Town, USA, in Omaha, Neb., and in 1992 was featured in a 16-page article in Sports Illustrated about his work there. That year he was selected to start the first ever Boys Town facility outside of Omaha, in Los Angeles, Cal. Today, he is a consultant for faith-based organizations.

Speaking to the audience by Skype, Burton told the group that GOALS stood for Go Out And Live Your Life Successfully.

Dennis Custis lettered in four sports at Onancock, starting 36 straight games in football. At North Carolina Wesleyan, Custis starred in baseball and also was a member of the bowling and tennis teams.

Custis coached for 34 years at Central, Onancock and Nandua and compiled one of the winningest records in Shore history. At Onancock he won seven district titles in softball, four in girls’ basketball and three in boys’ basketball, then went to Nandua in 1984 and won 16 straight girls’ basketball titles and 19 out of 21 years. He also won four out of five boys’ basketball titles and advanced to the Final Four. He won regional crowns in softball, girls’ basketball and boys’ basketball.

Custis, who was also a popular history teacher and principal at the school, said he chooses to remember his players who made the key shots in winning games but rarely dwells on the games that were lost.

Ben Askew, a 1967 graduate of Onancock, was an outstanding athlete known for his toughness in all sports. He was a pole vaulter on the track team. He was athletic director at Nandua for 20 years.

When Coach Serini was weakened with cancer the final year of his life, he selected Askew to take over Onancock’s football team.

Askew followed in the tradition of his father, Ben Askew Sr., at Onancock by spending countless hours preparing the athletic fields for competition in addition to supporting coaches in his role as athletic director from 1984 to 2004.

Larry Thomas, a former successful coach at Atlantic/Arcadia High School, was selected for his tremendous support of Nandua athletics as its principal from 1989 to 2005. He frequently traveled to games played hours away on the other side of the bay.

Thomas said he was extremely proud of all Nandua accomplishments, noting the forensics and theatre banners on the wall of the auditorium.

It was my honor and privilege to introduce Lawrence Burton, whose life I have often touted as the ultimate blend of academics, athletics and service, as well as Dennis Custis, a lifelong friend. Dennis introduced Ben Askew and Larry Thomas in his typical entertaining and masterful style.

Hunters for Hungry
Seeking Donations

The Eastern Shore Chapter of the Virginia Hunters for the Hungry is in its 16th season of service to residents of the Shore. The program raises the funds necessary to pay the processing cost for deer donated by local hunters. The deer is processed into packages of ground meat that is distributed locally through the Foodbank in Tasley.

The deer may be taken to the refrigerated trailers at the Foodbank in Tasley or B&B Market in Machipongo. They also may be taken to the local processor, Brent Powell, in Wachapreague. The deer must be field-dressed and registered.

The program pays $45 per deer for processing costs, discounted from the going price of $80 a deer. Currently, there are matching funds available for local businesses, clubs, and groups. The organization is a 501-c-3, making donations deductible. The management expense is very low to maximize funds available for processing.

The local chapter is requesting both deer and financial donations to allow the program to continue this year. Please send checks made payable to “Hunters for the Hungry” to P.O. Box 1702, Parksley, VA 23421.

For more information, call the local director, Worth Saunders, at 710-0049 or email aes3ptocs@yahoo.com. The organization’s website is h4hungry.org.

Deer Hunting Changes Noted

The Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries (VDGIF) would like to remind deer hunters in Northampton and Accomack counties about changes this year regarding either-sex deer hunting days.

Unlike last year, either-sex deer hunting days do not run the full season.

In the counties (including the towns within) of Accomack and Northampton, either-sex deer hunting days are Nov. 30, and Dec. 7 through Jan. 4.

See www.huntfishva.com for more information on hunting seasons.

Broadwater upset Norfolk Academy 67-61 in its season opener Thursday night, then fell to Greenbrier Christian 56-51 in overtime Monday night in its home opener.

Norfolk Academy, a Division 2 school as opposed to the Division 4 Vikings, could not overcome the balanced scoring of Broadwater, which had Brendon Burrows and Wesley Shrieves with 18 points each and Michael Riopel with 17. Matt McCaskill added 12.

Shrieves sat most of the first half with foul trouble and then scored all 18 of his points in the second half.

The Vikings trailed by 4 entering the fourth quarter before outscoring the Bulldogs 21-9 in the final stanza to secure the win.

Broadwater was 19 of 25 from the foul line to help its cause, including 7 of 7 for Wesley Shrieves.

L. Plumlee led Norfolk Academy with 14 points.

On Monday, the Vikings jumped out to a 12-0 lead over Greenbrier Christian by hitting their first five shots, including 3-pointers by Burrows and Shrieves, but eventually fell to the Gators 56-51 in overtime.

“We jumped on them quick then got away from our offense,” said Broadwater coach Eddie Spencer. “We need to move the ball better and do a better job rebounding.”

Despite the quick start, Broadwater led only 14-10 after the first quarter and held a 4-point halftime lead.

The Vikings were up 39-31 in the third quarter when the Gators ran off 6 unanswered points to cut the Viking lead to 2 after three quarters.

Riopel, who missed much of the first half with foul trouble, fouled out with 1:15 remaining and the Vikes holding a 1-point lead.

Greenbrier tied the score and had the last shot, but did not get it off, forcing overtime.

Burrows was called for a foul with 1:46 remaining in overtime and then was called for a technical foul, which was his fifth foul and sent him to the bench. Trailing by 1, Greenbrier got four shots and the ball, taking the lead with 2 points and a bucket.

Broadwater never regained the lead as Greenbrier pulled away for the 5-point win.

Burrows had 16, McCaskill had 15 and Riopel added 12 to lead the Vikings.

Klayton Imman was the only Gator to score in double figures with 22 points but got scoring from eight teammates.

For the second game in a row, only five Vikings scored.

Broadwater was only 6-of-12 from the foul line. Greenbrier hit only 11 of 25 free throws.

Shore Hoop Action

The Northampton boys don’t play until Dec. 10, when they host Arcadia.

The Nandua girls host the Arcadia girls next Thursday in their home opener after traveling to Windsor Tuesday.

Arcadia played Monday night, losing to Holly Grove 35-24. Jaqashia Tull led the Lady Firebirds with 16 points.

The Northampton girls host Broadwater next Friday in their season opener. The Lady Vikings open Tuesday on the road against Denbigh.

All games tip off at 7 p.m.

The Chincoteague boys and girls play Tuesday against Holly Grove and then Salisbury, Md., on Thursday, with both games on the road.

Wrestling gets underway on the Eastern Shore when Northampton travels to Broadwater next Wednesday for a match.
The Eastern Shore All-District football team was named recently by coaches from Nandua, Arcadia and Northampton.

David Wright of Nandua was named to four positions on the All-District team, manning both the punter and kicker position in addition to being selected as a wide receiver and defensive back.

Tyler Major of Arcadia held three spots on the team, chosen as a running back, linebacker and kick returner.

There were three players chosen to two spots on the All-District team. Montrae Armstrong of Nandua was named as a running back and linebacker; Tyler Bell of Nandua was tabbed on both the offensive and defensive lines, and Anthony Smith was selected as a defensive back and kick returner.

Following is the 2013 All-District team:

- All-purpose back Tyreim Blake, Nandua - A unique athlete, Blake proved to be an offensive threat, rushing for 566 rushing yards on 101 attempts, 5.6 yards per rush with four rushing TDs and passing for 658 yards on 53 attempts with 10 TD passes. “Tyreim grew as a person and a football player this season, understanding his potential, and continues to flourish in the Warrior single-wing offense,” said Nandua Coach Chris Miles.

- Running back Jakorah Parker, Nandua - Parker showcased his talent this season for the Warriors’ single-wing rushing offense, rushing for 515 yards on 72 attempts, 7.2 yards per rush and scoring six rushing TDs and one receiving TD. “Jakorah is a very hard worker both on and off the field. His hard work in the weight room and off-season workouts allowed him to get the extra yards needed,” said Coach Miles.

- Montrae Armstrong, Nandua - Armstrong led Nandua in rushing with 591 yards, averaging 8.1 yards per attempt and scored 10 touchdowns. On defense, Armstrong had 106 tackles for the season. Miles said Nandua will miss “the heart and passion” showed by the senior captain next year.

- Running back, linebacker and kick returner Tyler Major, Arcadia - “Tyler is a hard-hitting running back and our wishbone offense fits his playing style,” said Coach Nock. “He has a good read of the field and knows how to use his blockers to his advantage, but can power through to make his own hole when needed.” As a linebacker, Nock said, “Tyler was an extremely fast linebacker who can find...” the football quickly on the field. He is excellent on stopping the run and can cover in pass coverage as well as our defensive backs.” Major also was named the district's kick returner.

Wide receiver Taylor Major, Arcadia - “Taylor is a big wide receiver who is deceivingly fast and will go up and get any ball that is thrown to him,” said Coach Nock. “He was definitely our go-to guy in our passing attack and had excellent yards after the reception. Any time we were in the red zone, Taylor's number would be called with a fade pattern in mind. One on one, he is a very hard receiver to cover, much less defend.”

Wide receiver, defensive back, kicker and punter David Wright, Nandua - Wright showed versatility as the team's top receiver with three touchdowns; a defensive back with 78 tackles and four interceptions, including one for a touchdown; a kicker who booted a 35-yard field goal in the playoffs; and a punter who averaged 35 yards a kick with great accuracy. “David will be missed as he begins his soccer career at VMI,” said Coach Miles.

 Tight End Ryan Outten, Northampton - “Ryan was one of our hardest-working players in practice and his game film grades were always high. Not only was he a great receiver when we got the ball to him, but he was a great edge blocker as well,” said Northampton coach David Farlow. “Ryan was a team player first and was a vocal leader who helped keep these guys motivated through a tough season.”

Offensive lineman Chris Lewis, Northampton - “Chris is a big, quick, strong linemen who could move really well. He anchored our offensive line from his right guard spot and allowed us to pull him with his quick feet when kicking out the ends. At 6'3”, 275 pounds, he was a team leader and the glue for us,” said Coach Farlow.

Offensive lineman Zach Seapelak, Arcadia - “Zach is our anchor on our offensive line as center,” said Coach Nock. “He has been a leader and captain on the line and only one phrase can describe him: rock solid. He never faltered, never failed and it is because of his work that our running backs did so well this season.”

Offensive lineman Damien Kirkpatrick, Arcadia - “Damien is a quiet, unassuming player who just gets the job done,” said Coach Nock. “His experience on the line was instrumental in our pulling plays with him leading the way. Our running backs had some of their best runs this season running behind Damien’s blocks and his work on the line excelled our running game.”

Offensive lineman Malachi Wise, Nandua - At 6'1” and 330 pounds, Wise was an anchor on the offensive line, emerging as a team leader and taking on more responsibility “Malachi’s blocking and trapping ability were keys to the success of the offensive unit this season,” said Coach Miles.

Offensive and defensive lineman Tyler Bell, Nandua - Bell repeated as an offensive lineman this year on the All-District team. “Tyler was the key to the Nandua offensive success. His attention to detail and work ethic at the center position was outstanding,” said Coach Miles. On defense, the senior recorded 51 tackles.

Kick returner and defensive back Anthony Smith, Nandua - Smith was the deep threat for the Warriors this season, with eight returns for 288 yards, the longest being 80 yards and averaging 36 yards per kick return. On defense, Coach Miles said, “Anthony has great coverage skills that will only improve next year. As a junior, he will return after an off season in the weight room, ready for next season.”

All-purpose player John Wright, Arcadia - “John is a captain and the leader of our defense. His experience at linebacker and knowledge of the game was like having another coach on the field,” said Nock. “He has a nose for the football and was always in on the big play. He always played at 100 percent and left everything he had on the field.”

Defensive lineman Control Brown, Arcadia - “Control anchored the middle of our defensive line at nose guard,” said Coach Nock. “Control is a true freshman playing like a senior. He is very quick off the ball and is a strong, hard lineman to try and stop. He is excellent on the run stop and is a hard blitzer when we need it.”

Defensive lineman Mahagee Wise, Nandua - Only a sophomore, Wise had 132 tackles this season, two fumble recoveries and three sacks. “Wise is a tenacious hitter with a desire to find the football. He is a very aggressive and quick player,” said Coach Miles.

Defensive lineman Todd McAvene, Arcadia - “Todd is a hard-nosed linemen who uses his experience on the line to his advantage. He has a great ability to read the run and can control the line of scrimmage when needed. He has really matured as a player and it shows in his level of play on the field,” said Coach Nock.

Linebacker Jamar Jones, Nandua - Playing outside linebacker, Jones made 95 tackles this season. “With unbridled aggression and quickness, Jammar excelled at outside linebacker. Jammar’s tenacity allowed him to always be near the ball carrier and make big plays when they were needed,” said Coach Miles.

Linebacker Will Farlow, Northampton - Farlow made 119 tackles playing inside linebacker for Nandua. Only a sophomore, Farlow was always around the ball. Coach Miles is looking forward to a productive season from Farlow and has high expectations for him in 2014.

Defensive back Keyandre Bundick, Arcadia - “Keyandre is one of our best coverage backs and was repeatedly asked to cover the opposing team’s best receiver,” said Nock. “He is a tough player who can handle the pressure of being the big play stopper who could shut down a passing game. His experience at defensive back gave us the stability we needed in our secondary.”

Defensive back Caleb Lucy, Arcadia - “Caleb is a tough player who is extremely strong against the outside run and a great coverage back. He led the team in interceptions and balls knocked down and gave us the big play turnover when we needed it,” said Nock.

Hi! I’m Carolina...I’m the purrrfect cat to adopt from the SPCA. Call today: 787-7385.
When resolutions are contemplated, one usually thinks of those dreaded promises we make to ourselves at the start of the New Year. Don’t worry. I’m not going to suggest such a thing. six weeks ahead of schedule. But I do plan to make an agreement with myself and I thought I would challenge others to do the same.

It’s Thanksgiving weekend and I’ve decided it is about time I make a list. No. Not the one for Santa. This is the tally of everyday wonders that touch my life. There are many, many things for which I am thankful. And lately I haven’t given my blessings much appreciation. Thank you to my family and friends for being there for me.

There are so many things on this inventory that my editor probably won’t give me the space for them all. So I’m noting just a few, NOT in order of importance.

While they sometimes leak or run out, I am so thankful for the magnificent ballpoint pen. I just can’t imagine taking notes without it. I am of course, thankful for my job, my Apple computer, the Internet, the telephone, email, our readers and our advertisers. I so appreciate not having to pound on an old manual typewriter. I’m grateful for programs like Spell Check and I love being able to look up a word in the computer dictionary even when I can’t think how to spell it.

Hot tea with a speck of sugar is wonderful. Ginger snaps are mighty fine. Eggplant Parmesan, tacos and big pasta shells stuffed with cheese and sausage are among my favorite foods. They are all definitely on the list.

I am thankful for cooler weather, the camellias that are blooming in my yard, old photographs, oysters, a clean kitchen sink, bright colors, conversations, dental floss, early morning fog, country living, the roof over my head and the shoes on my feet. Oh, and indoor plumbing and toilet paper, as well as heat and air conditioning that easily can be turned on and off.

Being able to hear, smell, see, touch and taste are awesome blessings. Chocolate tastes spectacular, but it sure smells good too. I feel the same way about the aroma of marsh mud and garlic being sautéed in olive oil. The sound of laughter is contagious, but seeing people chuckle or giggle is pretty great too. I am thankful for being able to feel a fresh, crisp breeze on my face and for getting return smiles from strangers who, like me, are just trying to make it through this world.

The horizon always makes me thankful with its sunsets, sunrises and splashes of color. I cherish looking at the cloud formations that sometimes take on animal shapes and human faces.

Tootsie Pop wrappers make me think of my childhood for which I am thankful. Putting my hands in clay, grasping oil pastels, using a camera, finding good stuff at the bottom of my pocketbook, having curly hair, being able to read and answering with a zinger are definitely appreciated.

Orange leaves, walking without a cane, losing five pounds, quitting smoking (27 years ago), being cancer free for more than a decade and the medical miracles that got me here are more stuff for which I’m grateful.

Little green frogs that jump on windows during a rain stop and let me take their pictures provide me moments of feeling one with the world and are very precious. I am also thankful for stained-glass windows, my porch swing, love and silence and the hope that all of you out there will find happiness over the holidays.
