An off-duty Northampton sheriff’s deputy died last week from injuries suffered when a tractor-trailer truck hit the farm vehicle he was driving along Lankford Highway near Eastville last Thursday, Sept. 4.

Albert T. Thomas, 50, who worked at Eastern Shore Regional Jail and lived in Cheriton, died at Sentara Norfolk General Hospital about two days later. Sheriff David Doughty said Thomas was with the Sheriff’s Department for about a decade.

The crash occurred at 4:52 p.m. on Lankford Highway about 100 feet from Route 633, according to State Police Public Relations Director Corinne N. Geller. The Kubota farm tractor was rear-ended by a 2005 Peterbilt driven by Rodney Shepard of North Carolina.

Geller said the cause of the crash remains under investigation by State Police, led by Trooper L.R. Sturgis.
Northampton Supervisors Consider EMS Issues

By Ron West

Northampton supervisors received a report Tuesday from DJG Architects giving a number of options for the future uses of the former Northampton Middle School.

The building houses the Parks and Recreation Department as well as the county’s Extension Service. The county has considered relocating the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Department to a portion of the building, which would require extensive remodeling.

The desire to repurpose the former school comes from a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) grant requirement to invest $600,000 into a community project rather than having to repay the sum. The $600,000 “bill” comes as a result of the sale of the former Sustainable Technology Industrial Park building that was partly funded by a USDA grant that must be refunded as the building has since been sold.

Over the past few months, the county has looked into using the cafeteria of the former school as a community kitchen, which along with the other county uses, could meet the USDA’s requirements for community uses.

John Ozmore of DJG offered options ranging from $3.8 million to $5.6 million. All involve demolishing parts of the former school. Several involve the loss of the the auditorium portion, and most involve building or modifying portions for EMS vehicles, training rooms and housing for personnel. The EMS Department currently rents a facility near Machipongo.

The county has earmarked close to $1.2 million for the project.

Supervisor Oliver Bennett, who spent much of his career teaching at that building, remarked that the options leave little of the building for what could be considered community uses. He stressed the need to preserve the history of the building, which dates to 1954 when it opened as the former Northampton County High School and served African-American students during segregation.

EMS Director Hollye Carpenter spoke of the need to provide better housing for the department’s equipment and staff, as well as more space for training.

A second EMS issue addressed by Carpenter was the number of calls answered by the various EMS companies, all of which have county staff working at them. In May, county EMS personnel began to operate out of Northampton Volunteer Fire and Rescue, based in Nassawadox, a pilot program slated to end in October. The company has requested that the EMS Department continue to provide personnel there. Carpenter told the board she does not support the request and it would be better to bring the personnel back to a Machipongo site, such as at the repurposed middle school.

Carpenter noted that the Nassawadox facility lacks some amenities needed by the staff and does not have an electronic stretcher as is found at the stations in Exmore, Cape Charles and Machipongo. The new type of stretcher is designed to prevent injuries associated with lifting it into the ambulance, and comes with a price tag of $13,000.

Speaking for Northampton Fire and Rescue, Amy Wilcox said that the station has ordered an electronic stretcher and is making other improvements. She also noted that volunteers not in the building when a call comes in cannot respond as quickly as paid staff who are in a station all the time. Some volunteers have complained about being dispatched for a call only to get turned around because the county’s ambulance with paid staff is dispatched moments later for the same call.

Former Supervisors Jeff Walker and Spencer Murray argued that renovating the former school would be unwise given the county’s large debt service.

Murray said it would be more prudent to wait 8 to 10 years to pay down the debt before taking on any more. He proposed that an EMS garage be constructed in Machipongo for $300,000.

Walker suggested that the fire training facility in Melfa adjacent to Eastern Shore Community College could be used for EMS training. If additional space is needed, a room or two could be added for far less than is proposed for the former middle school, he added.

Exmore Fire Chief Greg DeYoung spoke of the need to restore the alliance between the county’s paid and volunteer EMS personnel. One complicating factor is that county policy prohibits paid EMS employees from volunteering at a station in the county. According to DeYoung, there is no such state policy. He proposed eliminating the county regulation, which some see as a barrier between paid and volunteer workers.

The supervisors tabled action on the EMS issues while they look into the options and needs.

The other major issue of the evening concerned a request by the School Board for the county to turn over ownership of the five lots from the former Selma subdivision adjacent to the high school in Eastville. The county purchased the lots a few years ago, but has not assigned a use to them. Superintendent Eddie Lawrence and teacher Karen Laffel spoke of the need to expand athletic opportunities at the school. The county has allowed the school to use the property for the past few years. Laffel noted that a grant is available to improve the field, but the school system cannot apply for it if it does not own the property.

The supervisors voted 4-1 (Granville Hogg voting against) to transfer the properties to the School Board.

Police and Court Postings

By Linda Cicoira

Accomack Sheriff’s Office
Six Accomack Jail inmates were charged with malicious wounding by a mob this week in connection with the beating of another prisoner accused of killing three people in a head-on collision over Labor Day weekend.

Police are not saying if the assault was related to the crash.

Bonifilio Velazquez, 36, of Dreamland Court in Accomac was charged with involuntary manslaughter after a collision at the intersection of Lankford Highway and First Street in Keller around 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 30. Witnesses told police his vehicle crossed into the southbound lanes and struck an oncoming car.

The crash resulted in the deaths of Arnette N. Chandler, 58, of Roosevelt, N.Y., who was driving the other vehicle, and two passengers, Diann W. Jones, 55, of Exmore and A’Jamae Jones, 12, of Levittown, Pa. All had connections to the Eastern Shore. Velazquez lived in the area for 17 years, according to court records and was deported from another unspecified country because he was a felon.

Velazquez was taken away from the accident scene and to the Melfa State Police barracks for safety and alcohol testing. His blood was later drawn at Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital for further testing. From there he was detained at Eastern Shore Regional Jail for a couple of hours before transfer to Accomack Jail.

Sheriff Todd Godwin said at about 7:25 p.m. Monday, Sept. 1, Velazquez was assaulted by fellow inmates.

His injuries have not been disclosed.

Godwin said he is still in Sentara Norfolk General Hospital and under constant surveillance. Last week, Godwin said some of the injuries may have been from the collision.

Godwin said when Velazquez gets out of the hospital “he will not be put back in population. We treated him just like any other inmate” before. But, in the future, “he’ll be in a single cell.”

“This is not a gang-related incident,” Godwin said. “We check on our inmates every 30 minutes. Don’t know if it happened two minutes after we did rounds or 29 minutes after we did rounds. When we did our rounds, we realized he was beat up.”

“The courts decide whether he was guilty or innocent,” said Godwin. There will be no “vigilantism. It’s not up to the inmates in the jail. In a prefect corrections scenario, to prevent any kind of assaults everyone would have their own individual cell. We don’t have that luxury. We’re rated for 96 (inmates) and most times we are well over.”

On Tuesday, Godwin released a statement identifying the suspects alleged to have beaten Velazquez. Additional information was obtained from records filed in Accomack General District Court.

Charged with “being a person in a mob” who “maliciously stabbed, cut or wounded” Valezquez were inmates William Thomas Nelson, 58, of Melfa; Rynell Omar Crippen, 25, of Macedonia Circle in Nelsontown; Dalbert Nedab Jr., 39, of Wachapreague Road in Wachapreague; Lamonty Demetris Johnson, 20, of Pearl Drive in Oak Hall; Christopher Antonio Smith, 42, of Bundick Street in Onancock; and Rhyheem Rashawn Ridley, 24, of Gargatha Landing Road near Parksley.

Previous convictions for Nelson include two counts of distribution of cocaine, assault, domestic assault, two counts of possession of marijuana and possession with intent to distribute cocaine. Previous convictions for Crippen include possession of an illegal drug, grand larceny and destruction of property. Nedab was being held for allegedly possessing the controlled substance gama butyrolactone with intent to distribute it. Previous convictions for Nedab include shoplifting, larceny, passing a bad check and possession with intent to distribute cocaine. Johnson, who was being held for an alleged probation violation, was previously convicted of grand larceny and burglary. Smith. Prior offenses for Smith, who was being detained for a probation violation, include passing a bad check, attempted rape, possession with intent to distribute a controlled substance, disorderly conduct, trespassing, assault, resisting arrest, contempt, failure to report to jail and failure to appear for court. Ridley also was in jail for a probation revocation. He previously was convicted of a drug distribution offense.

Investigator Pat Coulter of Accomack County Sheriff’s Office is handling the cases. Preliminary hearings are set for Nov. 17.

Velazquez’s case will be heard Nov. 10. Godwin said the investigation is continuing.

Eastern Shore Drug Task Force

Law enforcement officers arrested 24 local men and women Wednesday following a seven-month investigation of narcotic offenses — primarily cocaine and marijuana distribution. Three other men being sought are suspected of selling cocaine.

The indictments were handed down by a Northampton Grand Jury Monday and sealed by Circuit Court Judge W. Revell Lewis until the suspects could be apprehended.

Accomack Circuit Court

The leader of a methamphetamine operation, who cooked the drug at his Gargatha home where he lived with his wife and three young children, pleaded guilty in Accomack Circuit Court last week as part of a plea agreement.

William Allen Williams, 27, pleaded guilty to manufacturing crystal meth and three counts of manufacturing the drug while a minor was present. A charge of conspiracy to produce the drug was not prosecuted as part of the agreement with Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney J. Spencer Morgan.

Judge W. Revell Lewis III accepted the agreement, which did not include sentencing. He ordered a presentence report and an evaluation and diagnosis by the state Department of Corrections. The crimes occurred between December 2013 and February 2014.

Williams did not testify. His wife, Joanna Strickland, 26, was indicted on a count of conspiracy and three counts of manufacturing meth with minors present. Her trial is scheduled for Sept. 18.

According to evidence, the drug was made in the shed, a bedroom, a bathroom and the kitchen of the home where Williams and Strickland lived with their daughters, ages 3, 4 and 6. Their trailer is on a pothole-ridden road off Gargatha Landing Road.

In another case, judgement was withheld for Sean Erick Pike, 21, of Cape Charles, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny of a handgun belonging to Taylor Scott on Nov. 1, 2013. Pike was allowed to remain free on existing bond. A presentence report was ordered.

James Joseph Brown, 22, of Myrtle Street in Exmore was sentenced for stealing property belonging Marshall and Brenda Carter in September 2013, to five years, with all but 30 days suspended. Restitution of $3,907 also was ordered.

Tremayne L. Joynes, 35, of Melfa was found guilty of embezzling more than $200 from GPM Investments between Nov. 11 and 20, 2013. He was released on existing bond pending completion of a presentence report.

Northampton District Court

Wayne Allan Hodgson II, 26, of Huston Avenue in Exmore was charged with malicious wounding on Aug. 20. Hodgson was arrested Sept. 2. Unsecured bail was set at $2,000. Investigator Tara Leckel of Northampton County Sheriff’s Office is handling the case. A preliminary hearing is scheduled for Oct. 16.

Marquese Danion Washington, 21, of Mill Street in Cheriton was charged with robbery and use of a firearm, occurring Aug. 29. He was arrested Sept. 5.

The victim is Abigail Hernandez. The record states she was robbed “of personal property by means of violence, assault, putting the fear of serious bodily harm, threats or by presenting a firearm or other deadly weapon.” Exmore Police Officer Barry Randall investigated.

‘Cameo Shots’ Sought for Exmore
Retrospective/Grant Application

By Ron West

Sarah Baldwin, who operates New Ravenna in Exmore, owns what at one time was the Cameo Movie Theater. Baldwin is attempting to restore the former Exmore icon to what it looked like before it ran its last movie reel.

Baldwin approached Exmore Town Council Monday to ask for assistance in obtaining grant funding to restore the interior of the Cameo and to repurpose its interior as a gallery and offices for her business. While not looking to reopen the site as a movie theater, Baldwin wants to see the building marquee and lobby area closely resemble what it did half a century ago. In her request, Baldwin noted that funding is available for historic buildings and by her count, more than 70 buildings in Exmore meet the definition of historic.

The cost is $10 for adults and $4 for children under 12.

The menu will feature Robbie Mapp Jr.’s pit-cooked BBQ, hot dogs, Wendy’s baked beans, cole slaw, iced tea or coffee and homemade desserts.

In other business, council agreed to fill the council seat vacated by former Councilman Charles Massey because of medical issues. Chase Sturgis was selected to serve until local elections are conducted in May 2015.

Updating council on the status of the upcoming Town Yard Sale, Roy Ballard noted that he has been attempting to locate picnic tables for use during the annual event. Groups or individuals who have picnic tables to loan should contact Exmore Town Manager Robert Duer.

Duer reported that repairs have been completed on the Town Hall roof. The cost, which had been budgeted, was $123,824 and the work has a 15-year warranty.

Public Utilities Director Taylor Dukes reported that thanks to a recent survey, leaks in the water system have been located and corrected. Dukes said a faulty check valve on one of the wells had resulted in the town pumping an additional two million gallons of water, only to have it run back down into the ground. The repair now shows that the town is using millions of gallons of water less each year than had previously been thought. He estimated that the change will result in the town having a 20-million-gallon surplus for its water withdrawal permit by the end of December.

Re-affirming that “no good deed goes unnoticed,” council voted to add one more "serving” to Dukes’ already full plate. In addition to overseeing the Public Utilities Department as well as helping with planning, he will now serve as the code enforcement official for the town. The new position will enforce regulations regarding defective buildings and other problems, such as overgrown lots. Mayor Doug Greer Sr. congratulated Dukes for his work and willingness to take on one additional task, without additional compensation.

It is almost hard to believe that Labor Day has come and gone and the summer of 2014 is over. Summer is always such a great time for making memories, particularly if you have young children as I do. I hope that you all had a great and memorable summer.

Also, with the passage of Labor Day, begins what is less than affectionately known in political circles as the “crazy season,” that is, the sprint to November elections. This year, Virginia’s 11 Congressional seats and one U.S. Senate seat are on the ballot. Both sides will seek to make use of what is referred to as the “low information voter,” who pays little attention for 9/10 of the year to the issues facing the nation and the commonwealth, but can be nudged to spring into action by placing the appropriate hot-button words and pictures in his or her mailbox. Please do not be that person, and discourage your friends and neighbors from being that person. Take some time to read and ask questions on the issues, particularly beyond whatever one or two issues may be most important to you.

Most controversial issues are controversial because there are usually kernels of truth and merit on both sides. As voters, in the heat of campaign season, we need to take a collective deep breath. Real solutions cannot be distilled into campaign sound bites or mail pieces. This is one of the reasons we have drifted away in our nation and now our commonwealth from the commonsense middle, which defined us for so many years and which led to a strong and healthy Virginia. All of the real work in government gets done “in the middle.” Sadly, the middle is shrinking.

In my relatively short tenure in Richmond, I have seen a tremendous difference and the prospects do not appear any brighter going forward. Polarization, often driven by fear-mongering and misinformation, is used by both sides of the political spectrum. This, as well as partisan redistricting, which I will write about in another report, makes effective governing very difficult. But voters can do something to stop this slide.

With summer behind us, attention must already turn to the upcoming Virginia General Assembly. This summer I have been traveling all over this very large and diverse district, attending meetings and events and holding town halls once the 2014 General Assembly’s business was finally complete. I will hold another round of town halls in advance of the 2015 General Assembly Session.

In addition, I have scheduled a meeting with the Virginia Department of Transportation (VDOT) and various stakeholders to discuss Route 13 and its many safety issues. Just a few years ago, Sgt. J.P. Koushel of the Virginia State Police and I took a trip to Richmond to meet with the commissioner of VDOT.

I had hoped to have safety improvements along our Route 13 corridor treated as one transportation project to include rumble strips, which were a high priority for Sgt. Koushel, as well as better signage, more closures of uncontrolled crossovers and installation of more guardrails. At the time, Virginia simply had no transportation dollars to spend on anything but necessary maintenance. Since that time, we have passed an omnibus, bi-partisan transportation package which has infused much needed funding into our transportation construction and maintenance system. Because of the backlog of transportation needs, our system has soaked up the additional revenue like a sponge.

However, I am hopeful that, perhaps, we can come up with some additional ideas, building upon the rumble strips which have been installed these last few months, to make this a safer corridor to travel. I also hope to have a public meeting to discuss the issue.

While overall, fatalities from traffic crashes have decreased over the past decade, the number of pedestrian fatalities has fluctuated very little. Motor vehicle crashes involving pedestrians still account for a large number of injuries each year. According to the Virginia Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) Crash Data, 427 pedestrians in Hampton Roads were injured in 2013 and 81 were under 15 years of age. The beginning of the school year represents the most dangerous months of the year for pedestrians in Virginia.

“Drivers must realize that children see and think differently than adults. Their field of vision is narrower, they have slower reaction times and their hearing prevents them from locating the source of sounds, such as sirens, quickly,” said Georjeane Blumling, vice president of public affairs for AAA Tidewater Virginia.

“Children do not develop a sense of danger until at least 6 to 8 years of age. As adults, we need to be more aware and prepared for children in traffic.”

AAA’s School’s Open - Drive Carefully campaign was launched in 1946 to help reduce the number of school-related pedestrian injuries and fatalities. AAA offers the following advice for motorists:

• Slow down. A pedestrian struck by a vehicle traveling just 10 mph faster is nearly two-thirds less likely to be killed compared to a pedestrian struck by a vehicle traveling just 10 mph faster.

• Talk to your teen. Car crashes are the leading cause of death for teens in the United States, and more than one in four fatal crashes involving teen drivers occurs during the after-school hours of 3 to 7 p.m. Get evidence-based guidance and tips at TeenDriving.AAA.com

• Come to a complete stop. Check carefully for children on sidewalks and in crosswalks before proceeding.

• Watch for bicycles. Children on bikes are often inexperienced, unsteady and unpredictable. If your child rides a bicycle to school, require that he/she wears a properly-fitted bicycle helmet on every ride. Find videos and expert advice at ShareTheRoad.AAA.com

Eastern Shore Tourism Commission Launches Oyster Marketing Program

Coming on the heels of Gov. Terry McAuliffe’s recent announcement that Virginia is one of the country’s largest oyster producers, the Eastern Shore of Virginia Tourism Commission has launched a marketing campaign to attract oyster lovers to the region.

A new microsite, www.esvatourism.org/oysters and a new Pinterest board dedicated to the oyster: http://www.pinterest.com/VisitESVA/virginia-is-for-oyster-lovers/ will make it easier for travelers to visit. Paid media and social media messaging will help spread the word to key drive markets in state, and to major metro areas in the northeast.

The history, culture and culinary aspects of Eastern Shore oysters, clams and seafood will connect travelers with everything they need. The new microsite has detailed information about upcoming oyster roasts, seafood festivals and any related event, where the raw bars are, how to explore the seafood culture here via local museums, historic sites, art galleries, eco tours and aqua culture, and where to stay.

Three of Virginia’s seven oyster regions are located on the Eastern Shore of Virginia. Each of the Eastern Shore’s three oyster regions produces oysters with a unique flavor, from the bold salty flavor of the Chincoteague oysters found in the Atlantic Ocean, to the perfectly balanced salty sweetness of oysters from the upper Chesapeake Bay, or the briny, creaminess of oyster found in the lower portion of the Chesapeake Bay. Virginia’s Eastern Shore is uniquely situated to attract oyster lovers, since it harvests oysters both from the Atlantic Ocean and the Chesapeake Bay, making it a one-stop shop for travelers who want to experience a range of flavors.

The Eastern Shore of Virginia has one of the country’s oldest seafood cultures. Capt. John Smith began exploring the Chesapeake Bay in the early 1600s and wrote that oysters “lay as thick as stones” in the bay. Oysters became an important part of the diet almost as soon as colonists landed in the early 1600s. By the mid-1800s, the commercial oyster industry on the Chesapeake Bay was booming, with oysters being canned and shipped by rail across the country. To this day, watermen harvest fresh oysters, process them and ship them far and wide. Eastern Shore oysters are on the menu at General Central Station in New York City.

The new microsite gives consumers details about upcoming events and how to buy tickets, and more events are being added constantly. Events range from upscale dinners that pair raw oysters and local wines to down-home oyster roasts and clam bakes that offer visitors a chance to rub elbows with friendly locals and learn to shuck their own shellfish. Often, ticket sales to these events benefit a local charity, so reaching new markets could benefit the region’s nonprofit sector.

The new oyster website points travelers to local restaurants where they can find fresh, oysters and other local seafood on the menus, including a dozen raw bars. Travelers will not only savor the local seafood, they can also take home reminders of the deep seafood culture on the Shore; antique oyster rakes, oyster cans and bushel buckets can be found at the Shore’s many antique stores. Any of the area’s hardware stores can outfit a visitor with the shucking knife and oyster glove that they’ll need to become an oyster aficionado.

Museums on the Eastern Shore of Virginia will give travelers insight into the life of the waterman and the historic importance of oysters here. Machipongo’s Barrier Islands Center tells the story of the now abandoned barrier islands on the Shore’s Atlantic coast, communities that depended on the ocean for their livelihood and way of life. The Eastern Shore Waterman’s Museum and Research Center in Onancock is specifically dedicated to preserving and sharing the history of watermen on the Eastern Shore, giving visitors an inside look into the waterman’s day-to-day life through the years.

Chincoteague Island is one of the key oyster-producing regions on Virginia’s Eastern Shore and its history has long been intertwined with oysters and the waters that surround the island. That history is preserved at the Museum of Chincoteague Island.

Area eco tours take visitors up close to see oysters in the wild. A tour of a local aqua farm is an education about the innovations of the modern oyster industry, and kayak tours take visitors on a slow paddle over a living oyster bed. Local outfitters provide travelers with all the gear they need to dig for their own dinner by raking for oysters.

Whether it’s discovering the flavor of fresh, briny oysters, shopping for antiquities or attending a local oyster roast, visitors to the Eastern Shore of Virginia will find endless opportunities to experience oysters, the environment that produces them and the people that dedicate their lives to them.
During the fall months, millions of songbirds, hawks, shorebirds, butterflies and dragonflies migrate through the narrow Delmarva Peninsula on their long journey south to warmer wintering grounds.

The Eastern Shore Birding & Wildlife Festival next month will bring you closer to nature and closer to the birds with guided hikes, family activities and boat trips throughout much of the Eastern Shore’s flyway.

Festival headquarters and vendors will be located at the Cape Charles Fire Station, 501 Mason Ave. Free activities for children and families will be offered at Kiptopeke State Park. Free bus transportation between Cape Charles Fire Station and Kiptopeke State Park will be available. Field trips and activities will be held in various Eastern Shore locations beginning Friday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 a.m. and running through Sunday, Oct. 12, at 4 p.m.

For a complete schedule of events and to register for field trips, check out the Birding Festival website at www.esbirdingfestival.com/

Sullivan has conducted fieldwork on the Eastern Shore’s flyway. He is currently project leader for eBird and photographic editor for the Birds of North America Online at the Cornell Laboratory of Ornithology. Sullivan also served as photographic editor for the American Birding Association’s journal, North American Birds from 2005-2013. The Friday night program is free and open to the public.

The Eastern Shore of Virginia Birding and Wildlife Festival is sponsored by Eastern Shore Eventacular, Inc., the Eastern Shore Soil and Water Conservation District, the Virginia DEQ Coastal Zone Management Program, Virginia State Parks, and Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries.

Virginia Secretary of Public Safety Brian Moran will be the keynote speaker for the United Way of Eastern Shore of Virginia’s kickoff luncheon Tuesday, Sept. 16, at Eastern Shore Yacht and Country Club.

Moran visited the Eastern Shore shortly after a tornado hit Northampton County in July and witnessed firsthand the response and ongoing support to the victims. He praised the responders and the local community for its fast and thorough reaction to the tragedy.

United Way funds go to volunteer fire and rescue squads and other first responder organizations, in addition to providing emergency food and shelter, family counseling, health services, youth development and recreation programs, and many other community services.

On the day the tornado hit Cherrystone Campground, the United Way office received an email from John Culp, executive director of the Lower Eastern Shore American Red Cross, which stated, “We are in Cheriton in force today — volunteers, equipment, etc. — in response to the tornado. This is the kind of thing your generosity makes possible.”

An additional speaker, Chad Ballard, owner of Cherrystone Campground and Ballard Fish Oyster Company, will give his testimony of the devastation and recovery from the tornado.

Moran was a member of the Virginia House of Delegates from 1996 to 2008, representing northern Virginia’s 46th District.

He attended Framingham State College and later Catholic University of America, where he earned his law degree from the Columbia School of Law in 1988.

Gov. Terry McAuliffe selected Moran to serve as secretary of public safety, the cabinet position with supervision of State Police, the state’s alcoholic beverage control laws, the Virginia Department of Corrections and the Virginia National Guard.

“We are thrilled to have a speaker the caliber of Brian Moran for our kickoff event,” said Bill Sterling, president of United Way of Virginia’s Eastern Shore. “It is the perfect tie-in to our mission of improving the quality of life on the Eastern Shore and this year’s theme, ‘Celebrate A Better Tomorrow.’ Moran’s genuine comments during his recent visit to Cherrystone Campground to witness the devastation of the tornado revealed how impressed he was with the response of the Eastern Shore community. United Way is proud to be able to assist the organizations that respond in such situations.”

The United Way has raised almost $5.5 million since being established in 1991. Costs are kept low with one part-time employee and the efforts of local volunteers.

To participate in the local United Way campaign or for more information, call Dawn Byrd at 787-5622 or email dbyrd@esunitedway.org

Tyler Webb leaves today for Tampa, Fla., to take part in the New York Yankees’ Instructional League — and that means the 2009 Northampton grad is still very much a part of the Yankee future following a whirlwind year that saw Webb play on three Yankee farm teams.

“I will be there for a month working on my breaking ball to get better command and consistency,” said Webb Tuesday from his off-season home in Columbia, S.C. “I want to sharpen my slider to make it an effective out pitch on a regular basis.”

An invitation to the fall instructional league indicates the Yankees are willing to invest time and money on Webb’s development.

A typical Instructional League day includes drill work from 9 a.m. to noon, lunch, and then a 1 p.m. game against another team’s prospects. The games are controlled and allow for players to continue to work on specific skill development. A significant portion of the individual ball club’s management team attends each year to examine the next crop of prospects.

There was ample speculation in the latter part of August that Webb would be among the players called up to the Yankees when the rosters expanded to up to 40 players on Sept. 1.

“There was talk about me going up in September, but I didn’t put too much stock in it,” said Webb. “It would have been nice because it’s a nice pay bump, and, of course, the dream is to play in the big leagues. But all I can do now is keep working and be ready when the opportunity comes.”

When the call-ups came, the Yankees chose to go with players who had previous big-league experience. None of the prospects at Triple A Scranton, including Webb, were tabbed for the big-league roster.

Rules on starting a player’s major-league service and beginning the three option years on that player have more to do with call-ups sometimes than the need for a player’s abilities.

When the clock starts ticking, the team eventually loses some control and can be forced to place a player on waivers — allowing other teams to claim the player — before being sent down to the minor leagues.

As for Webb, he only focuses on what he is doing and keeping up with his ever-changing scenery.

“I don’t get caught up with all the rules. I understand it’s a business. I feel good about the year I have had, but I know I need to work on some things,” said Webb, who started the year in Class A Tampa, quickly moved to Double A Trenton when he dominated at the lower level, and then finished the season at Triple A Scranton after pitching in the Double A All-Star game.

His final outing of the season left a good memory. Against Lehigh Valley, Webb struck out all three batters he faced in the top of the ninth inning, then got his second win against no losses at the Triple A level when Scranton scored a run in the bottom of the ninth.

“I was happy we got that run and did not have to go back out there, so I could end the season on a high note,” said Webb.

For the season, Webb had a 3.80 earned run average and 4.05 at Triple A. At one point, he did not allow a run in nine of 10 outings and had an ERA of 2.30, but an off night when he allowed four runs raised his ERA by two runs before he finished strong, not allowing another run in his final three appearances.

“When you don’t pitch that many innings, the ERA can really jump with one bad night. At this level, if you don’t make your pitches, the hitters make you pay,” said Webb, a University of South Carolina product who was vital in the back-end of the bullpen in the Gamecocks’ back-to-back College World Series Championships in 2010-11. Webb was so dominant he didn’t allow a run in three seasons in Omaha, where the College World Series is held every year.

“I have pitched in front of big crowds before. It’s just baseball,” said Webb. “It’s all the same but a little better competition at each level.”

For now, Webb is working to reach the highest level.

Nandua Nips Franklin 49-48 in Comeback Overtime Win

By Bill Sterling
Trailing 36-13 to Franklin at half, Nandua scored on its first two second-half possessions and then tied the game with 34 seconds remaining before stopping a pivotal 2-point conversion to preserve a 49-48 win in overtime Friday night at Franklin.

“It was a great win for our program,” said Nandua coach Chris Miles. “The team really pulled together at half and came out determined to win.”

Franklin, ranked sixth in the state in Division 1 in preseason and having lost only three games the past two seasons, including state playoffs, showed off its outstanding speed in the first half. The Broncos scored 28 points in the second quarter after Nandua took a 7-0 lead four minutes into the game on a 10-yard run by Jakorah Parker.

Nandua had pulled to 22-13 with 3:07 left in the first half when Jhamir Poulson recovered a fumble in the end zone, but Franklin scored twice more, once with five seconds left in the half after recovering an onside kick, to take what seemed like an insurmountable lead.

That’s when the Warrior trio of Tyreim Blake, Anthony Smith and Parker took over the game. Each of the three versatile running backs had over 100 yards rushing for the game. Trevor Wessells also contributed heavily with three touchdowns on only six carries and also converted five of six extra points, including the decisive one in overtime.

On the opening drive of the second half, Blake bulled his way down the field and scored on a 19-yard run.

“Tyreim has emerged as a real leader of this team,” said Miles. “He showed a will to win in the second half and pulled the team together. We had talked before the game about being able to take a punch and come back strong. Franklin certainly delivered a punch, but I was proud of the way we fought back.”

Wessells then scored on runs of five and four yards to pull Nandua to within two points, 36-34, with 7:28 to play in the game.

Franklin’s offense was unable to move against an inspired Nandua defense, but the Broncos’ Rashard Parker blocked a Nandua field goal attempt from 33 yards and returned it 67 yards for a touchdown, giving Franklin a 42-34 lead with only 3:16 to play.

Parker then reeled off a big run on a Nandua drive before Wessells scored on a three-yard score with only 34 seconds remaining. Blake then muscled his way in to get the game-tying conversion.

In overtime, Nandua lost nine yards on the first play and faced a fourth and goal from the 11-yard line, when Blake fired a pass to Anthony Smith for the score. Wessells converted the extra-point kick.

Franklin scored quickly in the overtime, but stalled on the 2-point conversion when pushed back by a false start and delay of game penalty. When the Warriors stacked up Javonte Baker on the 6-yard line, the celebration began for Nandua as a stunned Franklin crowd looked on.

Blake had 157 yards rushing on 19 carries and also completed four of six passes for 48 yards. Smith had 127 yards on 10 carries and also caught three passes for 40 yards. Parker had 113 yards on 17 carries.

Cedric Walters led Nandua with 13 tackles, with Smith adding 12 and Mahagee Wise nine. Wise also recovered a fumble and Jhamir Poulson had two fumble recoveries.

The win raised Nandua’s record to 2-0 facing a stiff challenge Friday night against 4A J.M. Bennett of Salisbury, Md. with a 6:30 p.m. kick-off at Wicomico County Stadium.

“In Virginia, Bennett would be large enough to be two divisions above us. They have 20 seniors on the roster, so they have a lot to choose from,” said Miles. “It will be a great test for our team.”

Northampton Falls 48-6 at Home to Northumberland

Northampton came out strong early, stopping Northumberland twice within the 30-yard line in the first quarter, but eventually fell 48-6 Friday at home.

“We played a great first quarter,” said Northampton coach Ty Traister. “We just did not have anything in the tank after the first half. We never stopped fighting, which was very exciting to see. Our players are learning how to fight through adversity. In every football game, something is going to go wrong and it is learning to persevere that is going to get us to our goal of that first win,” added Traister.

Keondre Ames, Austin Brady, and Jovoski Williams led the Northampton defense with nine tackles each. Ames also recovered a fumble inside the 20.

“We are continuing to improve each day. Our kids are gaining confidence and with each game we gain experience,” said Traister.

The Yellow Jackets, now 0-2, travel to West Point for their first road game of the season Friday night. The Pointers lost to Rappahannock 34-13 last Friday night.

Nandua Games Will Feature Special Events

Nandua is planning special events around the Warriors’ opening home games this season.

On Sept. 26, when Nandua hosts Arcadia, former football players from Onancock, Central and Mary N. Smith will be recognized on Heritage Night. Players from those schools that eventually formed Nandua will gather and be recognized at halftime.

On Oct. 3, when Nandua hosts Washington, the 30th anniversary of the first Nandua football game that also had Washington as an opponent, will be commemorated. The 1984 football team is planning a cookout prior to the game.

Chincoteague’s Gardner Fosque rushed for 213 yards on 18 carries and scored five touchdowns to lead the Ponies to a comeback 42-30 win over Broadwater on a hot, sultry afternoon at Exmore Saturday.

Trailing 30-14 with 6:58 remaining in the third quarter and both teams showing effects of the extreme heat, Chincoteague somehow found a second wind and scored 28 unanswered points to get its second win in two outings this season.

Fosque, a junior, has now rushed for over 200 yards in each of three consecutive games, capping the season last year with 279 yards against Greenbrier Christian and opening the season last week with 245 yards against Hampton Roads Academy.

The Ponies needed just about every one of Fosque’s 213 yards last Saturday as his touchdown runs of 40 and 80 yards in the fourth quarter seemingly sapped the spirit of the Vikings.

“We were having players cramp up in the second half,” said Pony coach Nick Howard, “and we were feeling the effects of the heat, but the scores gave us some life and the guys really fought through the conditions. We were also able to rotate some players who really played well.”

Howard added, “Broadwater has a solid team, considering all the players they lost from last season. There’s no doubt it hurt them when Tyler Major went out with an injury in the third quarter. They are going to have a good season if he is OK, and I sure hope he is.”

Broadwater coach Noble Palmer refused to blame the heat and the Major injury for the loss. “The heat was the same for both teams, and injuries are part of the game,” Palmer said. “Chincoteague played stronger for 48 minutes than we did. They ran exactly what we expected and prepared for, but they just beat us with some old-fashioned football. They have good size up front, and Fosque ran downfield. Chincoteague should have a really good season, and I am rooting for them except when they line up against us.”

Major, whom Palmer said will be ready for Greenbrier Christian tonight, scored the game’s first touchdown on a 24-yard run early in the first quarter and then added a 59-yard scoring run with 1:42 remaining in the opening period. He also had a two-yard touchdown run in the third quarter and gained 179 yards on only 13 carries.

Broadwater took a 22-8 lead when Taylor Major scored on a 50-yard run after taking a lateral from Major Morgan on a hook-and-ladder play following a pass from Viking quarterback Austin Murphy. Taylor Major, twin brother of Tyler, had 95 yards on five carries and a touchdown.

Chincoteague scored with only seven seconds left in the half on a five-yard run by Fosque. “Getting that score just before the half was huge for us,” said Howard.

A 19-yard scoring pass in the third quarter from quarterback Larry Harper to Kyle Gentry started the Chincoteague comeback. Harper was 8 of 9 passing for 113 yards and a touchdown, showing poise as a third-year starter as the Pony quarterback.

Anthony Wailes complemented Fosque superbly with 93 yards rushing on eight carries. He also led the team on defense with seven tackles. “Anthony was making plays all over the field,” said Howard.

For Broadwater, Murphy completed 11 of 22 passes for 106 yards, with Morgan having five catches for 50 yards. Taylor Major had three receptions for 29 yards.

Leading Viking tacklers were Keegan Czesak with 11 and a sack and Cortland Bunce with nine plus a sack. Will Sexauer had six tackles and two sacks.

Sexauer ran for a 2-point conversion, and R.C. Cooley caught a pass for another 2-pointer. For Chincoteague, Hunter Leonard also caught a 2-point conversion pass from Harper, who also ran for a 2-pointer.

Trailing by 4 points in the fourth quarter, Broadwater twice was deep in Chincoteague territory when fumbles were lost, the first recovered in the end zone by Fosque for a touchback, the second recovered by Justin Lappin near the 20. Three plays later, on a third-and-three, Fosque put the game out of reach with an 80-yard run up the middle of the field.

Chincoteague travels four hours to Blackstone to battle Kenston Forest tonight, while Broadwater, 0-1, travels to Greenbrier. Kenston Forest is 0-2, having lost to Fuqua and Isle of Wight. Greenbrier is also 0-2, having lost to Norfolk Academy and Trinity Episcopal.
Arcadia Drops to 0-2

Arcadia suffered three turnovers and committed numerous penalties in falling to Sussex Central 40-0 Friday night at Oak Hall.

“We need to tighten up our play, or we are going to be in for a long season,” said Firebird coach Tony Nock. “Fortunately, we have an off week and can work on some things that need improving. We are doing way too much arm tackling. We’ve got some good players, but we need some leaders to step up and take charge.”

The first quarter took 50 minutes to complete as both teams were guilty of numerous penalties, but Sussex Central got on the scoreboard first after an apparent fumble was nullified when it was ruled the Tiger runner was down on contact.

Arcadia then put together a good drive, only to have a Sussex lineman pick off a Josh Sanns pass at the line of scrimmage within five yards of it being released.

“We lost some momentum and confidence after that drive,” said Nock. “Sussex is a really good team, and we knew we had to play a near perfect game to compete with them.”

Sussex continued to roll up scores as Churro Scott, Alec Bailey and An’Tae Motton hit pay dirt to give the Tigers a 34-0 halftime lead.

“We only gave up one score in the second half, so we showed some pride there,” said Nock.

Sanns was 3 of 7 for 60 yards passing, with Eric Grinnage catching two passes of 43 yards and Paul Brown grabbing one for 17 yards.

Jamal Savage rushed for 57 yards on seven carries, with Travon Copes running for 30 yards on four carries. The Firebirds had 109 rushing yards on 14 carries.

Tyric Harris led the team on defense with six tackles. Sanns, Savage and Leander Dickerson had three each.

Nandua Takes Golf Match

Leslie Ibarra led the Warriors with a 45 in the nine-hole match and was the medalist. Arcadia’s Sarah Jones was second with a 47.

Zach Underwood and Cobin Kellam each had a 49, with Jack Schreiber shooting 53, to give the well-balanced Warriors a 196 total to defeat Arcadia’s four-player total of 232.

Scoring for Arcadia in addition to Jones were Zach Mills with a 52, Ashley Holcomb with a 59 and Austin Schmidt with a 74.

For Chincoteague, with a 269 total, the four golfers were Brock Schister, 59, Cody Britton, 62, Tristan Binder, 67, and Kirby Schister, 81.

Broadwater Rallies for 4-Set Volleyball Win Over Northampton

Broadwater bounced back from losing the opening set to Northampton, 25-18, to take the next three sets, 25-18, 25-15 and 25-18 Wednesday at the Jacket gym.

“I was proud of the way the team competed,” said Viking coach Kim Laxton. “We had played three nights in a row with two of the matches going five sets. They came back strong after losing the first set.”

Kathleen Kraft led the Vikings with 16 kills and 14 digs, with Anna Sexauer adding nine kills. Heather Custis contributed six kills, 12 digs and four aces. Jenna Hare had two kills, with Palmer Smith getting one. Katelyn Hill had 34 assists and a pair of aces.

Northampton was led by Kennedy Webb with 11 kills, eight assists, two kills and two aces. Taylor Webb had four kills, two blocks, and eight assists. Taylor Nadeau, Monique Ayres and Angela Head had two kills each.

Northampton travels to King and Queen for a match tonight and then hosts the same team at home next Friday in a 6:30 p.m. match.

Spike-Out Cancer Night Set at CHS

The Chincoteague varsity and JV volleyball teams will be holding a car wash fund raiser on Saturday, Sept. 27 at the Hampton Inn to support the Diane Galambos Memorial Scholarship and Relay for Life. Galambos lost her battle with breast cancer while teaching at Chincoteague High School in 2012.

The third annual “Spike-Out Breast Cancer” JV and varsity volleyball games will be played at Chincoteague on Tuesday, October 21 against Arcadia starting at 5 p.m.

Vikings Win Conference Tilt Over PC

Broadwater volleyballers defeated Portsmouth Christian Monday night after winning the last two sets in a five-set match. The Lady Vikings won the opener 25-22, then fell 25-11 and 25-21 before rallying for 25-16 and 15-10 wins.

“We had a slow start but finished strong. We are young and continue to learn how to work as a team. Overall, I was pleased to get the win,” said Viking coach Kim Laxton.

Kathleen Kraft had 13 kills to lead the team with Heather Custis getting eight kills and six solo blocks at the net. Freshman Anna Sexauer had eight kills. Katelyn Hill had 33 assists.

On Tuesday, Broadwater fell in five sets to Atlantic Shore Christian, losing the opener 25-19 before taking the next two, 25-21 and 25-7. However, Atlantic Shores took the next two 25-20 and then 15-13 in the finale.

“We put up a good fight, but at the end we just ran out of steam,” said Coach Laxton.

Kraft and Sexauer had nine kills each to lead the Lady Vikings. Custis had five kills and six solo blocks at the net. Jena Hare had three kills with Kellam Addison getting one kill and three aces. Hill had 29 assists.

Kraft led the team with 14 kills, four blocks and two aces. Custis had 5 kills and 9 blocks at the net. Sexauer had 3 kills and an ace. Hare had a pair of kills. Hill recorded 24 assists and also had 2 aces and a kill.

Fall Fishing Report

Big red drum running up to 52 inches continue to be caught on the bayside from off Nassawadox Creek to the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel. More than 80 release citations have been filed just at Don’s Tackle Shop this summer.

Outside the inlets, reef and wreck fishing is still producing flounder.

Spot, croaker and sea mullet are being caught at Buoy 262 near Cape Charles. Flounder have been around the bridge-tunnel, fourth island and Buoy 42.

Puppy drum also have been reported off Cape Charles pier.

Loads of white marlin are in the Norfolk Canyon; the hot new style to hook up these gamefish is live baiting. Gaffer dolphin are at the 20 fathom finger.

Anglers Club Hosts Kids’ Fishing Day

The storms held off and the fish were cooperative for 66 Eastern Shore youngsters who gathered last Sunday at Saxis Fishing Pier. A good number of spot, plus small stripers, bluefish, and assorted other species were caught by the children, all of whom received a fishing rod and reel and a great introduction to angling under the auspices of the Eastern Shore of Virginia Anglers Club (www.esanglersclub.org). After the rigors of baiting hooks and landing fish, the children enjoyed hot dogs and soda and a presentation to the three individuals who caught the largest fish. The free event was made possible by license fee revenue distributed through the Virginia Saltwater Recreational Fishing Development Fund and administered by the Virginia Marine Resources Commission, as well as contributions from local businesses.

Troy D. Ashe Memorial Police Pistol Tourney Oct. 11

The 16th Annual Trooper Troy D. Ashe Memorial Police Pistol Tournament is scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 11, at 9 a.m. (rain date Oct. 12, 10 a.m.). The event will again be hosted by Eastern Shore Safaris Hunting and Fishing Lodge at 6276 Sturgis House Dr. in Jamesville.

The pistol tournament welcomes families that are interested in a fun, safe, family-oriented event with good food and fellowship. Qualified firearms instructors will be on the range to ensure the safety of all participants as well as observers. The $20 entry fee will provide participants with a T-shirt from the event, a target for the pistol-shooting competition, a door-prize ticket, entry to the silent auction and lunch. Children 12 and under are free.

Youngsters, ages 7-12, will have the opportunity to compete in a special class using BB guns in the Guy Lawson Memorial Youth BB Gun Tournament and will be using BB guns supplied by tournament officials.

To enjoy the day without competing, there’s a $10 fee, which includes a door-prize ticket, entry to the silent auction and lunch.

Many different events will take place throughout the day. The silent auction, the BB gun competition, additional pistol shooting competitions and the sporting clays competition will be ongoing.

The Troy Ashe Memorial Pistol Tournament is a 50-round course with both civilian and law-enforcement divisions. Teams and individual shooters compete. The entrants in the individual, police, and civilian adult events will use their own duty-style weapons and ammunition.

Entrants in the Chief Steve Elliott Memorial Sporting Clays events will need to use their own shotguns and supply their own shotgun shells. The Campbell Cup Challenge is a separate 50-round course with civilian and law-enforcement divisions shooting for the highest score in the same division.

Trophies will be awarded for individual and team events. A traveling trophy will be awarded for the winning law-enforcement team, while the permanent trophy may be viewed at Eastern Shore Chamber of Commerce office in Melfa.

Those who would like to support the tournament, other than by competing, may donate items for the auction, food or paper products for the meal, or their time to help.

For additional information regarding the tournament or scholarship opportunities, call 757-710-8486 or 757-693-3109 or visit the tournament website at www.troyashempt.com.

None of our elected officials care. None of them transferred them to his Obamacare. Medicare, but our president took Medicare funds and all your life. Of course, we have health insurance and entire pension, so there is a great reward for working. All the help we get is out-of-pocket and eats up my outside care. I am her caregiver and do the best I can. Even worse, I may have lost my 2nd Amendment rights. Even worse, I may have lost my right to vote. In order to keep my post office box number for verification.

Residents Appreciate Prom Help

Dear Editor:

The G.F. Horne Assisted Living Facility Prom was a success! We were all so happy, with many smiles and feelings of being special. There was awesome dancing, and we were all dressed in formal wear and gowns. After four months of preparation, it was an event to be remembered.

Our deepest, heartfelt thanks go to Jerusalem Baptist Church for its extremely generous donation, Gina Crockett of Lighthouse Ministries for all her wonderful help and support and, as always, Naomi Makemie Presbyterian Church. Larry Linton, our DJ was also wonderful.

Thank you to all for the time of our lives.

Now that the prom is over, we would love to have bingo games again. Donations of bingo prizes are always appreciated.
