Can Northampton Afford To Build New Schools?
By Ron West

The Northampton County Board of Supervisors and School Board conducted a joint session Wednesday to review the county’s ability to fund a new high school/middle school complex.

Courtney Rogers of Davenport and Company, which advises the county on financial matters, provided an extensive report on the county’s financial situation as well as when it might be in a better position to incur another $30 million in debt. That is the estimated cost of constructing a new high school and middle school facility.

Rogers outlined the current debt service that the county has incurred in recent years, as well as the revenue streams available to help pay off past debts and fund budget needs. The remaining debt service for the capital improvement projects in the Eastville area — including county offices and courts — plus other smaller projects such as the waste collection sites, totals in excess of $38 million and is on track to be paid off by 2033. Borrowing for new school(s) at this point could increase the debt total to $84 million.

Rogers pointed out that the county was currently handling its finances efficiently, but taking on the new school debt would significantly increase the amount of funding needed to meet the budget expenditures. The only viable way to do this would be to find a new revenue stream, which would likely result in a tax increase.

Board Chairman Larry LeMond asked Rogers how the finances would look if the school project were postponed for five years and was advised that it would help as that would allow the county to pay down another five years of its current debt.

Supervisor Oliver Bennett suggested that it might be easier for the citizens to accept a tax increase to fund the school if it came in small increments over a five-year period.

Northampton Looks To Lure Business Suitors

By Ron West
The Northampton Board of Supervisors has reached out to an outside agency to take a look at the way the county is perceived by businesses that might locate in the area.

This week, John Ozmore of Investment Consulting Associates of Newton Highlands, Mass., outlined the county’s advantages and disadvantages in the eyes of prospective business owners. High on the list of things that pose a barrier is the county’s isolation, as well as the lack of nearby public transportation options. While Bay Coast Railroad does exist and there is a small harbor in Cape Charles, many businesses would need more. With respect to the county’s positive aspects, Ozmore cited its rural nature as well as attractions such as hunting, fishing, or boating.

Asked about the potential impact that issues with the school system might have on the situation, Ozmore said that though it might not be a major hindrance for a business that uses local labor, it could prove unsurmountable for a company interested in relocating its labor force to the county. He urged the county to focus on education and training opportunities to increase the local workforce, and to look at putting in infrastructure such as public water and wastewater.

Asked if zoning issues would keep companies from locating in Northampton, Ozmore replied that if a company knows up front that the zoning and permitting process would only take a short time, it would likely not be a deal breaker. He added that companies don’t want to have to go through a seemingly endless process of hearings and zoning requests just to find in the end they are not likely to get the support of the local governing body.

In closing, Ozmore strongly suggested that the county update its website to include more data on such things as its workforce, unemployment, workforce housing availability, and education system so that prospective companies would know if the area is suitable for their location.

In other business, Sheriff David Doughty asked the board to authorize a payout for accrued overtime by officers of approximately $15,000. Additionally, he asked for a total $69,000 increase in pay for the department, which includes his office, the courthouse security staff, and jail staff. A new part-time position of special investigator, whose job it would be to solve cold cases, would run an additional $30,000. After some negotiation with the board, it was agreed to fund up to $95,000 of the requests. Much of the needed revenue for these requests would be funded by revenue from traffic fines.

A Maryland woman, who was shot during the crimes, was sentenced last week in Accomack Circuit Court to 43 years in prison for her part in a fatal home invasion that occurred in Sanford last summer.

Lamesha Cropper, 26, formerly of Salisbury, Md., and a National Guard member, got 20 years for armed burglary, 20 years for robbery and three years for use of a firearm in the robbery. Judge W. Revell Lewis III suspended 36 years of the first two charges. The firearm term is mandatory, leaving Cropper seven years to serve.

At a May trial, Deputy Commonwealth’s Attorney Matthew Brenner explained that Cropper, Titus Lysander Floyd, 19, of Mappsville, Leon O’Bryan Crippen, 22, of Chesser Road in Temperanceville and Master Caine Wesley Jr., 23, of Nelsonia broke into the Marsh Market Road home between 9 and 9:45 p.m. Aug. 28, 2013, and demanded money from the five occupants. A sixth man was in the bathroom when the break-in occurred and managed to escape out a window and call for help.

The residence was ransacked and at some point Cropper struck a victim in the face, there was shooting from both sides and money and guns were taken, the prosecutor said.

Wesley died from gunshot wounds to the torso. He and Cropper were found in a vehicle parked at Handy Mart in Temperanceville. Cropper was taken to a Maryland hospital for treatment and later extradited back to Virginia to stand trial.

Army Sgt. Jerome Hack of Joint Base Pearl Harbor-Hickam in Hawaii wrote a letter to the judge urging him to give Cropper a break.

“Having know Lamesha for almost 13 years now, I was taken aback when I heard of the charges filed against her,” Hack wrote. “We first met when we were in high school and this entire incident seems extremely out of character for someone as upright as Lamesha. ... She is a good person who deserves a chance. Convicting her and sending her to jail or prison would only expose her to further bad influence. I humbly ask you to please give her an opportunity to set her life back on track and not let a bad decision alter her life’s direction.”

In another case, Termaine R. Reid, 28, of Jackson Street in Parksley pleaded guilty to the April 29 larceny at Royal Farms in Parksley. A presentence report was ordered. Reid was remanded to jail.

Stacey Lynne Mumford, 18, of Lee Street in Belle Haven was sentenced for felony destruction of property occurring April 10 to three years in prison, with all but time served suspended.

John William Jardine, 34, of Bayford Road in Franktown pleaded no contest to embezzlement. He was found guilty and is free on bond until a presentence report can be completed.

Amie P. Pryor, 25, of Walker Lane in Harborton was convicted of the misdemeanor, being an accessory after the fact regarding stolen property. Pryor was initially charged with the felony, receiving stolen property. The charge involves a laptop computer. A presentence report was ordered. Pryor was released on existing bail. Sentencing was set for Dec. 1

Northampton Circuit Court

The woman who allegedly had $100,000 worth of heroin in her car is free while a man driving in a vehicle ahead of her, but linked to the crime, was denied bond Monday in Northampton Circuit Court.

Twenty-year Commonwealth’s Attorney Bruce Jones said this was the first time he ever had appealed the bond decision of a district court judge.

Chris Marcus Smith, 31, of Woodstock Street in Portsmouth, Va., was taken back to Eastern Shore Regional Jail following a hearing with Judge W. Revell Lewis III. Lewis said his decision was based on the seriousness of the offense and his concern for public safety. Smith was free on bond and on probation when the drug offense allegedly occurred on Sept. 11.

District Court Judge Gordon Vincent had set bond for Smith and co-defendant, Jaquae Joanne Moore, 24, of Mt. Vernon Avenue in Portsmouth at $40,000. Moore, who was charged with distribution of a controlled substance, is free on the condition that she stays away from Smith.

Smith was charged with distribution and transporting drugs. He has been convicted of manufacture/sale of controlled substances twice, according to court records. Preliminary hearings for the two were set for the end of October. Jones said Smith had three prior drug convictions. The other was for possession of marijuana, a misdemeanor.

“It is important to realize that in this particular case ... he was under surveillance ... acquiring heroin in New York City ... and then stopped in Northampton County,” said Jones. “Smith ... at the time of this offense was on bond for felony eluding. ... It is unimaginable that this man would be permitted bail,” the prosecutor added. “He was clocked at well over 100 miles per hour.”

Lyanda Manning, Smith’s pregnant fiancée, and others in his family urged the judge to set bond. He is “loving and caring, a hard worker, a family man (who has) never been involved in a criminal street gang,” Manning maintained. She said Smith started an outreach program that mentors kids whose parents are incarcerated.

Defense attorney Andrew Sacks argued in favor of bond. “No drugs have been found in his possession at all,” the lawyer said. “Another woman in a car behind him was found with drugs. The person with the drugs had been given bail. Circumstances of the case are very, very weak. ... The defendant says he was not in NY. He was in Accomac. That is where he was coming from ... he hasn’t been convicted of anything. He’s merely been charged ... he wasn’t actually eluding the police ... it was a speeding case” that hasn’t been heard yet and did not occur on the Shore.

Bail also was denied for Lilton Smith, no age available, of Blue Heron Drive in Cheriton, charged with a third offense of possession with intent to distribute cocaine, occurring July 9. He was arrested Sept. 10.

Bobby Terrell Manuel, 27, of Exmore pleaded guilty to throwing a missile at an occupied dwelling on April 4. Manuel was allowed to remain free on existing bond until a presentence report is completed. An identical charge will not be prosecuted. According to testimony, Manuel went to his girlfriend’s house and threw cinderblocks at her window because she ignored him when he ran out of money.

Gregory Eugene Waters, 29, of Bayside Road in Exmore pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor count of receiving a stolen iPad in August 2013. He was initially charged with a felony. He was given a nine-day suspended sentence and fined $300.

Michael Edwards, 43, of Cape Charles was sentenced for possession with the intent to distribute between a half-ounce and five pounds of marijuana to three years in prison, with all but 10 days suspended. His driver’s license was suspended for six months. Edwards was having marijuana shipped to him from Colorado, where possession is legal. Once his package arrived, he would resell it to friends, which covered his costs.

Andrew Whaley Jr., 43, of Exmore was sentenced for driving after being declared an habitual offender to five years in prison; all but a year was suspended.

Accomack District Court

A young homeless man is being held in Accomack Jail without bond after being charged with robbery and theft that allegedly occurred last weekend.

According to Accomack District Court records, Thomas Lesley Reid, 18, formerly of Seth Smith Road in Wiggins, Miss., is accused of robbing Sean Hall “by means of violence, assault, putting the victim in serious bodily harm.” Reid also was charged with grand larceny of Hall’s property. Chincoteague Police Sgt. T.B. Hickman investigated.

Ricky Ernest Johnson Jr., 27, of Dreampark Drive in New Church was charged with possession of marijuana, possession with intent to distribute cocaine and possession with intent to distribute between a half-ounce and five pounds of marijuana, all on Sept. 24.

Accomack Deputy Steve Lewis of Eastern Shore Drug Task Force investigated. Johnson was arrested Sept. 25. He is being held without bond.

Richard Todd Taylor, 49, of Sand Street in Temperanceville was charged with transportation of a firearm by a felon on Sept. 27. Trooper A.D. Montross stopped Taylor for allegedly having an expired state inspection sticker and observed the butt of a rifle on the passenger seat, according to court records. Taylor said he used the rifle for squirrel hunting, but, according to the records, as a felon, Taylor is prohibited from having a gun. Secured bond was set at $1,000. He was arrested the next day.

a good time at a party that he attended with his girlfriend and his cousin. “I wasn’t going out to commit any crimes. ... I was just using my protective instinct.”

The defendant was on probation when Jordan, also known as Bob and Sponge Bob, 23, of Cape Charles was beaten and then shot to death outside A&E Auto & Truck Repairs on April 13, 2013.

Deleon Fitchett was previously convicted of possession with intent to distribute marijuana. He said he quit using the drug after he was arrested and his probation officer sent him for psychiatric counseling. He began taking medication for depression and stopped using marijuana, according to testimony.

“The fatality was not caused by the beating,” for which Deleon Fitchett was convicted, said defense lawyer Carl Bundick. “It was the shooting” that killed Jordan, Bundick added when asking for leniency. “He has a very serious work record” and he has three children.

Commonwealth’s Attorney Bruce Jones wanted a more severe punishment. “Punching and kicking a man helpless on the ground ... warrants more time” then the maximum six years set by court guidelines, Jones contended. “The nature of this case warrants a significant sentence.”

Earlier this year, Blake got 12 months in jail for misdemeanor count of assault and battery and 12 months for misdemeanor assault and battery by a mob in connection with the case. Those terms were reduced to 60 days. Blake also apologized to Jordan’s family. John Deandre Lavon Logan, 28, of Cincinnati, Ohio was sentenced earlier for unlawful wounding to five years, with all but 12 months suspended.

The shooter, Durell Fitchett, is scheduled to be sentenced in November. He was convicted of second-degree murder and use of a firearm in a felony.

Jones summarized the crimes at their trials last February. He said Jordan “was putting up no resistance” as he was beaten. “No one realized he had been shot. Almost all bleeding was internal.”

Kittens and puppies! His life of faith, deep appreciation for nature and lots of kittens and puppies! His life of faith, deep appreciation for nature and lots of gifts of infinite worth to us.

Dad provided a wonderful life for his family by his hard-working, determined, whatever-it-takes approach to farming, logging, and landscaping.

He gave his service, time, and tithes to God and his church.

As “POP-POP,” he gave endless tractor rides — first to his grandkids and later to the great-grands who were old enough.

Since summer was the busiest season for farmers, our vacation trips were close by and often beach-related. In retirement, he gave his children and grandchildren awesome weeks of trips exploring and seeing new places. However nice the trip was, often by Thursday, he would very firmly announce that he wanted to be back down Baylys Neck and in his chair by Friday night!

Dad gave countless “messes” of clams and oysters to friends and family and in retirement his favorite place to be was in hip boots and mud. Fishing and rabbit-hunting became sources of gifts to others as well.

He easily transferred his success as a farmer for 50 years to gardening and countless mouth-watering vegetables were picked (with Mom’s help, of course) and delivered to those he loved.

Dad gave to those who needed whether it was encouragement, money, pulls from snowy ditches, or rescues from broken-down vehicles. Friends and neighbors always knew Dad would be there for whatever the need might be.

Let’s not forget those times he gave his sons-in-law a hard time! (Oh, those stories!)

The tangible and intangible gifts Richard B. Parks gave could fill pages, so all we can say is “Thank You” and we know we have been so very blessed to have been loved by such a man.

A funeral service was held Wednesday, Sept. 17, at 2 p.m. at Zion Baptist Church, with Rev. Andrew Matthews officiating. Interment was private.

Memorial contributions may be made to Zion Baptist Church Memorial Fund, c/o Jack Kellam, 26485 Lang Farm Rd., Accomac, 23301.

The Virginia General Assembly took some important actions during a special session recently and I wanted to update you.

First, the General Assembly acted responsibly to close Virginia’s $2.4 billion revenue shortfall.

Secondly, the House of Delegates once again voted to reject Medicaid expansion.

We learned earlier this summer that Virginia faces a $2.4 billion revenue shortfall — the first budget shortfall in four years. The shortfall is largely due to federal policies. Usually the General Assembly would act on the budget when we return in January for the next regular session. The House leaders and I thought it was important, however, to act sooner to balance the budget.

The General Assembly voted to close the shortfall by cutting spending and responsibly using some of the state’s Rainy Day Fund. We enacted 3 percent across-the-board spending cuts at state agencies and found over $240 million in unspent balances. The legislative branch alone returned almost $5 million in savings to the General Fund.

We did this while protecting the core functions of government. By using the Rainy Day Fund, the direct impact on local governments is lessened dramatically. We also protected K-12 education from cuts and reduced by half the cuts Gov. McAuliffe originally requested for higher education.

Acting sooner to close the shortfall was the fiscally responsible thing to do. We have protected Virginia’s prestigious Triple-A bond rating and created certainty for Virginia businesses and local governments.

The primary purpose of the reconvened special session was to debate Medicaid expansion.

Throughout this year’s budget impasse, other House members and I called on the governor and Democrats to separate the issue of Medicaid expansion from the state budget. We promised to hold a special session after the budget was passed in order to have a full and fair debate on Medicaid expansion.

We kept that promise last week, debating Medicaid expansion for nearly two hours on the floor of the House of Delegates. Two Republican delegates patroned a Medicaid expansion bill they called “The Bridge,” but to my surprise, not one Democrat co-patroned the bill.

At the end of the debate, whether you call it Marketplace Virginia or The Bridge, the House of Delegates overwhelmingly voted for the third time this year to reject Medicaid expansion.

Medicaid is a broken system that should be reformed. Its cost rises at a rate of 8 percent a year while state revenue rises at a 1 percent rate. It competes for dollars with education, public safety, and transportation. The federal government equations drive our state government’s budget and force us to adjust our expenditures after federal demands are met. This is an unsustainable model for government spending.

The House of Delegates will continue to work to reform the current Medicaid program and strengthen the healthcare safety net for Virginia’s most vulnerable citizens.

As always, I appreciate the opportunity to represent you in Richmond. I can be reached at my business, Bloxom Auto, at 824-3456 or by email at delrbloxom@house.virginia.gov.

- The flu vaccine is safe, does not cause the flu, and can protect the ones you love.
- Spread the word and GET VACCINATED!

Even healthy people need a flu vaccine.

Influenza (flu) is a contagious disease which affects the lungs and can lead to serious illness, including pneumonia. Even healthy people can get sick enough to miss work or school for a significant amount of time or even be hospitalized.

Is the flu vaccine safe?

Yes. The flu vaccine is safe. They have been given to hundreds of millions of people for more than 50 years and have a very good safety track record. Each year, CDC works closely with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), and other partners to ensure the highest safety standards for flu vaccines.

The most common side effects of flu vaccines are mild.

The flu vaccine cannot cause flu illness; however, it can cause mild side effects that may be mistaken for flu. For example, people vaccinated with the flu shot may feel achy and may have a sore arm where the shot was given. People vaccinated with the nasal spray flu vaccine may have a stuffy nose and sore throat. These side effects are NOT the flu. If experienced at all, these effects are usually mild and last only 1-2 days.

Even if I get sick, won’t I recover quickly?

Not necessarily. Influenza can be serious and anyone can become sick with flu and experience serious complications. But even if you bounce back quickly, others around you might not be so lucky. Older people, young children, pregnant women and people with medical conditions like asthma, diabetes, heart disease and lung disease are at especially high risk from the flu. Kids, teens and adults who are active and healthy also can get very sick from flu and spread it to others. Some people can be infected with the flu virus but have no symptoms. During this time, you can still spread the virus to others. Don’t be the one spreading flu to those you care about.

Can’t I wait and get vaccinated when/if flu hits my community?

It is best to get vaccinated before flu begins to spread. It takes about two weeks for the flu vaccine to provide full protection, so the sooner you get vaccinated, the more likely it is that you will be fully protected once flu begins to circulate in your community. based on what strains of influenza virus are circulating. Also, protection offered by the influenza vaccine typically only lasts for several months.

People should begin getting vaccinated as soon as possible. It takes about two weeks after vaccination for antibodies to develop in the body and provide protection against the influenza.

Vaccination is especially important for people at high risk for serious influenza complications, and their close contacts. People considered high-risk are children younger than 5, but especially children younger than 2 years old, adults 65 years of age and older, pregnant women, and people who have medical conditions including:

- Asthma;
- Neurological and neurodevelopmental conditions;
- Chronic lung disease (such as chronic obstructive pulmonary disease [COPD] and cystic fibrosis);
- Heart disease (such as congenital heart disease, congestive heart failure and coronary artery disease);
- Blood disorders (such as sickle cell disease);
- Endocrine disorders (such as diabetes mellitus);
- Kidney disorders;
- Liver disorders;
- Metabolic disorders (such as inherited metabolic disorders and mitochondrial disorders);
- A weakened immune system due to disease or medication (such as people with HIV or AIDS, or cancer, or those on chronic steroids);
- Morbid obesity (Body Mass Index [BMI] of 40 or greater);
- People younger than 19 years of age who are receiving long-term aspirin therapy.

In addition to getting vaccinated, you can take everyday preventive actions like staying away from sick people and washing your hands to reduce the spread of germs. If you are sick with the flu, stay home from work or school to prevent spreading flu to others. For more information, visit www.cdc.gov/flu/.

Celebrating Our 9th Year!
Coaches Parks, Betts Reflect on Football Past

Last Friday, former players from Central and Onancock high schools were recognized at halftime of the Arcadia-Nandua football game. The two elder statesmen in the group were Harry Betts and Thomas Ray Parks, teammates and co-captains on the 1949 Central team. Betts, a year older, played quarterback, and Parks was a running back.

Parks even had a helmet from that 1949 team, recalling William & Mary had donated the helmets to Central, which was forming a football team that year for the first time since a loosely organized group played for three years after the high school opened in 1932.

Although Betts was a senior that season, he and Parks would play on the 1950 Central team as well. No, Betts didn’t have to repeat his senior year. Well, yes he did. There was no graduating class in Accomack County in 1949 because the school system was adding a 12th grade, making Betts and his classmates seniors for two years.

Parks and Betts, who both grew up in Wachapreague, would later coach against each other. Parks coached at Onancock early in his career and then spent 16 years coaching at Central. Betts coached at Atlantic, where he won three district football titles and was second twice in addition to winning three state track titles before taking a coaching position across the bay. He later coached at a number of Christian schools and ended his career as the head coach of Nandua in the late 1980s.

Coach Parks, my coach for three years at Central from 1966 to 1968, names Glenn Sterling as the best running back he ever coached. “Glenn could run over tacklers and then he could run away from them. He had good speed, but his strength was his best asset. He could just stiff-arm tacklers off of him.”

Glenn led the state in scoring in the 1968 season with 132 points as the Bulldogs scored 366 points and allowed only 49 in a 9-1 season while going unbeaten in the district. That would be the first of three consecutive seasons Coach Parks led Central to unbeaten seasons in the Shore District.

Parks retired from coaching after the 1977 season, suffering only two losing seasons. Today, even at 81, he stays active golfing, fishing and hunting.

Onancock and Central both won their share of district titles up to the time Nandua was formed in 1984. The two schools were rivals who traditionally played on Thanksgiving night, in front of as many as 5,000 fans some years.

The Thanksgiving game that is talked about even to this day, though more by Onancock fans than Central fans, was the 1965 meeting that saw Onancock rally to tie the Bulldogs 34-34 on three touchdown passes from Mike Murphy to John R. Richardson late in the fourth quarter.

On Tuesday, Murphy, an insurance agent in Onancock, confirmed a story I heard over the years. Basically, the only play that Onancock ran in those final frantic moments was Murphy telling the team in the huddle, “John R., get open; the rest of you, block.”

Each school had its marquee players through the years. On Monday, I played golf with Kim Miles, a quarterback on the 1962 Onancock team who starred in both football and track at Trinity College.

Though he is considered by many as one of the finest athletes ever produced on the Shore, Miles said he always viewed Ronnie Killmon, five years older, as the best. Killmon was later a standout on the Norfolk Neptunes, a semi-professional team that had a great run in the late 1960s.

In 1978, an Onancock team featuring Jarvis Bailey, Mervin Smith and David Turner advanced to the state championship game, where they narrowly lost to Clintwood 14-7.

In the early years at Central, Elbert Spencer, though only a sophomore, led a 1958 Bulldog team to a district title. Injuries curtailed his career. Phil McCaleb, who was an assistant coach to Parks, was a standout lineman on that team and went on to a football career at Washington & Lee that eventually saw him inducted into the school’s Hall of Fame.

Betts spent six years at Atlantic, where he won three district football titles and was second twice in addition to winning three state track titles before taking a coaching position across the bay. He later coached at a number of Christian schools and ended his career as the head coach of Nandua in the late 1980s.

In the final years of Central, from 1979 to 1982, Ricky Bailey set a national high-school record for interceptions with 23 in a season and 46 in a career. A scoring machine, Bailey recorded 39 career touchdowns and is considered by many as one of the best ever.

Of course, those “one of the best ever” arguments, comparing players from different eras, are subjective and would include players not mentioned here and from teams other than Central and Onancock.

Though no players from Mary N. Smith stepped forward to be recognized last Friday night, my choice, based on a full body of work, for the best Shore football player ever would be Lawrence Burton, who was in the 1970 Mary N. Smith graduating class, the last ever for the school. No one else can claim to be a consensus Division 1 All-American, a first round NFL selection, an NCAA track champion and an Olympian.

And for good measure, Burton was his high-school valedictorian and an honor student at Purdue University. He retired from the NFL to devote his life to helping troubled youth and disadvantaged adults.

I rest my argument.

Chinco Remains Unbeaten with 10th Straight Win

Chincoteague breezed to its fifth win without a defeat this season and extended its winning streak to 10, dating back to last year with a 45-18 win over the Hampton Generals.

“We are rolling pretty good,” said Pony coach Nick Howard, “but there are some things we need to work on. We have some tough games coming up on the schedule, and we are getting a bit sloppy in some areas and giving up some big plays.”

Anthony Wailes got the Ponies on the scoreboard first with a 46-yard touchdown run. Gardner Fosque ran for a 2-point conversion for an 8-0 Chinco lead.

Hampton struck back quickly on a 70-yard touchdown pass, but then Wailes scored again on a 54-yard touchdown run. The two scoring dashes were Wailes’ only carries of the night and gave him an even 100 yards rushing.

Big plays continued as Fosque ran for touchdown runs of 62 and 64 yards, all before the first quarter expired. “It was one big play after another in that quarter,” said Howard, whose Ponies held a 27-6 lead.

More big plays followed as Hampton opened the second quarter with a 48-yard run before Chincoteague’s Larry Harper found Kyle Gentry for an 85-yard touchdown pass. Harper found Gentry again for a touchdown, this time from just five yards out.

In the fourth quarter, Cody Britton took it to the house for 40 yards to complete the Chincoteague scoring.

Fosque rushed for 201 yards on only 12 carries and now has 1,003 yards for the season in only five games. Harper was 3 of 7 passing for 126 yards and two touchdowns, with Gentry catching both scoring passes.

Wailes had seven tackles to lead the defense, with Jake Rickman adding six. Colin Derrickson had an interception.

Chincoteague is at home with winless Rappahannock coming to the island. “They have played some bigger schools this season,” said Howard.

Northampton Falls to Lancaster

Northampton trailed unbeaten Lancaster by only eight points, 16-8, after the first quarter, but a 28-point outburst by the Red Devils in the second quarter led to a 58-8 defeat for the Jackets, now 0-5 and still looking for the team’s first win in the past four seasons.

Northampton scored when Frederick Williams returned an interception for a touchdown in the first quarter.

Northampton coach Ty Traister said Hakeem Berry is hitting his stride on the offense and praised Austin Brady and Jovoski Williams for strong defensive games.

Coach Traister added, “Quinyon Williams is an underclassman who really stepped up big this week. I think playing offensive line at the varsity level clicked for him and he had a very good defensive game as well.”

Tonight, Northampton hosts Middlesex, 1-3, coming off a 61-0 defeat to Northumberland, who beat the Jackets 48-6 in the second week of the season.

Lancaster was led by quarterback Taylor Woodard, who threw TD passes of 42, 33 and 22 yards to Tyrell Henderson.

Arcadia JV Nips Nandua 23-21

The Arcadia football JV defeated the Nandua JV 23-21 last Thursday with a Logan Godwin 37-yard field goal in the first quarter proving to be the difference.

Arcadia held the ball for over eight minutes on the first possession before Godwin put 3 points on the board.

Ty Ballard led Firebird rushers with 85 yards. Kerrie Hickman had 20 tackles on defense, and Elijah Washington scored a touchdown and intercepted a Nandua pass on third-and-goal with less than a minute remaining.

Nandua Second-Half Surge Sinks Arcadia, 32-6

After leading only 14-6 at half, Nandua seized control of the game with 18 unanswered points to defeat Arcadia 32-6 Friday night in its home opener.

Tyreim Blake rushed for 191 yards on 17 carries, including a 73-yard touchdown run in the third quarter that gave Nandua a 26-6 lead.

Nandua scored its first touchdown on the opening possession by marching downfield without throwing a pass before Blake scored standing up on a three-yard run with 4:52 remaining in the first quarter.

Nandua’s second possession did not come until the second quarter, but the Warriors scored again, on a 55-yard run by Jakorah Parker to take a 14-0 lead on the second of Trevor Wessells’ extra-point kicks.

Arcadia got on the scoreboard late in the first half on a 15-yard scoring pass from quarterback Josh Sanns to Eric Grinnage, who out-jumped a Nandua defender in the corner of the end zone.

“We have been a second-half team all season,” said Nandua coach Chris Miles. “I was pleased with the intensity our players showed the entire game. That first drive was key. Big plays are nice, but I was pleased we held the ball for over seven minutes. We have worked all year on keeping penalties to a minimum and made only four Friday night. As coaches, we are very pleased with that.”

For Arcadia, Travon Copes had 74 yards on eight carries, while Jamal Savage had 63 yards on six rushes.

Tyric Harris led the Firebirds with 10 tackles. Cody Anderson and Savage had nine each. Quanni Payton made eight tackles.

“Not getting the first down in the second half was a big play, but the opening kickoff could have been a big play for us. The onside kick did not go 10 yards, but a Nandua touched the ball and we recovered. It should have been our ball,” said Arcadia coach Tony Nock. “We need to get a win at Colonel Richardson this week. We are both 0-4, but I am optimistic we can turn this around.”

Arcadia will have to go without senior quarterback Sanns, who suffered a concussion in the third quarter against Nandua and has been ruled unavailable for this week. “We will miss his leadership, but we have got some guys who can fill in at quarterback,” said Nock.

Parker had 87 yards to complement Blake’s 191 yards rushing. Blake was also 3 of 4 passing for 22 yards.

Nandua, now 3-2, meets Washington, 1-3, Friday night. The 30th anniversary of the first Nandua football game, which also had Washington as a foe, will be recognized at halftime.

Vikings Celebrate Homecoming with 51-7 Win

Story and photos By Bill Sterling

Tyler Major scored four touchdowns and his twin Taylor added two more as Broadwater crushed Kenston Forest 51-8 for a Homecoming win Saturday.

“We had a nice rhythm in the first half and jumped off to a big lead,” said Viking coach Noble Palmer, who watched his team take a 20-0 first-quarter lead and then expand the margin to 41-7 by intermission.

Taylor Major scored the first touchdown on a Viking favorite, a hook and ladder that starts with a short pass from Austin Murphy to Major Morgan, who then laterals to Major on the outside. Major outran the Kavalier defenders down the sideline for a 49-yard touchdown run with 6:16 remaining in the first quarter.

In the final two minutes of the first quarter, Tyler Major scored on runs of 48 and two yards, the second tally set up by a fumble recovery by Jordan Long and then a 32-yard completion from Murphy to R.C. Cooley to the 2-yard line.

In the second quarter, Murphy again found Cooley, but this time the 50-yard completion found pay dirt to give the Vikings a 27-0 lead after Thomas Scott kicked his third extra point in four attempts.

Kenston Forest got on the scoreboard with a good drive that ended with a two-yard scoring run. “Kenston Forest has some good athletes. They moved the ball against Isle of Wight and Blessed Sacrament this season.”

Murphy found Taylor Major down the right sideline for a 63-yard scoring pass before Tyler Major tallied the Vikings’ sixth touchdown of the first half on a 15-yard run.

“We took our foot off the gas in the second half, and our timing was not there,” said Palmer. “But that’s OK, we got everyone some playing time.”

The only touchdown in the third quarter was a two-yard run by Kenston Forest.

Tyler Major scored his fourth touchdown of the game in the final quarter before freshman Christopher Locker, taking over at quarterback, threw a 44-yard scoring pass to Kelly Reagan.

Murphy finished 6 of 11 passing for 152 yards and two touchdowns. Cool-ey caught a pair for 75 yards and a touchdown.

Tyler Major finished with 185 yards rushing on 12 carries.

Morgan led the defense with 14 tackles. Reagan had 12 tackles and two interceptions. Taylor Major made nine tackles, while Keegan Czesak had six tackles and two sacks.

Palmer said the defensive highlight of the game belonged to freshman Casey Wescoat, the smallest player on the team. “Casey might be 5 feet and weighs less than 100 pounds, but when Kenston Forest’s best runner broke through the line, Casey made a perfect tackle from his safety position and flipped him. He saved a touchdown and got the biggest cheer of the day from the crowd.”

Broadwater faces Isle of Wight tonight on the road. The Chargers are a conference rival who will be seeking revenge for a 49-14 pasting Broadwater put on them last year. “We have had some memorable games over the years,” said Palmer. “I am sure they will be up for us.”

Barbara Custis Music Festival
To Benefit Little League Complex

The 4th annual Barbara Custis Music and Fall Festival will be held at Randy Custis Memorial Park in Nassawadox Oct. 4 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. to benefit the Randy Custis Memorial Fund.

The annual festival was created to honor the life of Barbara Custis, her joy for music and the Little League facility that she and her husband, Phil Custis, helped created. All proceeds benefit the Randy Custis Fund, which oversees the Randy Custis Memorial Park’s maintenance and expansion. In recent years, lights have been installed, an indoor practice facility has been built, and other projects developed, creating an inviting atmosphere for the youth of the Eastern Shore.

Musical acts performing between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. will include the Matt Watson Band, Johnny Mo the Musical Chef, Heather and Nathan Travis, and Double Booked, featuring Andy Malik, Brian Irminger, Clark Lovelady and Ryan Davis.

Events include a volleyball tournament with coed teams of four, and a corn hole tournament.

Dear Editor:

I wanted to let you and your readers know that was my son, Will Flanders (age 8), hugging Mr. O’Shea on the front page of last week’s Eastern Shore Post.

It is a wonderful picture, but it is also so sad. It shows how much my son loves him. He thinks the world of him. Mr. O’Shea has been wonderful to him and us as a family and a school.

We are very sad at Metompkin as we say goodbye. Kim Flanders, via email

School Woes Have Silver Lining

Dear Editor:

Recent headlines about schools being warned or denied accreditation and falling into federal school improvement status are alarming. People might walk away believing that learning isn’t taking place in schools receiving such labels, but it isn’t quite that simple. Whether you subscribe to the changes in public education that resulted from No Child Left Behind, or whether you believe that standardized testing is a necessary part of leveling the playing field, there is a silver lining in all of the intense debate.

We’re not getting worse. We’re getting better. Teachers are working hard to implement new, more rigorous standards and wrap them in cooperative technology-based lessons. It is more complicated than ever, but we’re getting better as we learn. It has been a little messy as we’ve journeyed down the path, but progress has been made locally, at the state level, and yes, even at the federal level.

Northampton County Public Schools has had a long hard road when it comes to school improvement. At certain points, all the schools were at various levels of federal school improvement and were warned at the state level. It was hard and even a bit painful. It isn’t easy to change what we do and how we do it, but we have been focused on figuring it out.

As the parent of four boys who have attended Northampton’s public schools, and an educator, I have paid close attention to the entire process. I currently have two boys at Kiptopeke Elementary School, one at Northampton Middle School, and one who just graduated from Northampton High School. I am certain that teachers and administrators will confirm that I have been intensely involved in the discussions about improving my children’s schools.

Despite the current designation of “denied state accreditation,” Kiptopeke Elementary School has made tremendous progress. They are no longer designated as a “Priority School” under the federal system and they are meeting state benchmarks in three out of four areas. During the 2013-14 school year, they actually posted a 19-point gain in mathematics in a single year, clear evidence that when we focus on the work instead of the politics, we can close large gaps. Kiptopeke is currently focused on closing reading gaps and I have every confidence that they will get the job done.

Occohannock Elementary School is no longer designated as a federal “Focus School.” That means that both Northampton elementary schools are no longer in the bottom 15 percent of Title I schools in Virginia. That is worth celebrating. Occohannock is also meeting three out of four state benchmarks. They too are focusing in on reading instruction.

Northampton High School has been working on the graduation indicator and has met or exceeded the 85 percent benchmark for two years. New leadership is continuing the charge by seeking out students who didn’t get there, to offer a chance to come back and complete their required credits. They are identifying students at risk for not graduating on time and putting interventions in place early. The high school is fully accredited at the state level, meeting five out of five benchmarks, but they continue to work on improvements.

Northampton Middle School is working on the challenges associated with being a new school within the high school and has received conditional accreditation for the second year in a row. While scores have lagged, the staff has participated in professional development focused on aligning instruction with curriculum expectations. If they put their heads together and stay focused on the targets, they too will be celebrating great successes by the end of this school year.

If I had any words of wisdom to offer, it would start with “Don’t panic!” This process isn’t perfect, but it can work. Don’t get distracted by the politics and all the noise out there. We have more control over outcomes than it seems. The silver lining is that we’ll all be better for it.

Exmore Yard Sale Great Success

Dear Editor:

The regionally celebrated Exmore Town Wide Yard Sale turned out to be the most successful event held to date, thanks to many, many folks and organizations who pitched in to showcase our wonderful little town on this spectacular day.

Over 160 vendors set up in their designated spots, unfolding tables and displaying their wares even before the sun was up! The food court was packed all day, and musicians and performers entertained throughout the day, with jugglers, face-painters, and live music by Red Miller, Jeff Madson, Bruce McNeil and others. With the many classic and antique car, tractor, and bike exhibitors, the day took on the feel and excitement of a fall festival, and it appeared that a great time was had by the over 3,000 folks who came to our town on that day.

On behalf of the Greater Exmore Business and Community Association (GEBCA), many thanks to the Eastern Shore Post for advertising this event, as well as thanks to the other media outlets. Hats off to Moggie and Barry Marsh at the Antique Emporium in Exmore, who stepped up to the plate to ensure that the hundreds of merchants who rented spots were familiar with the rules of the day, and had a great time fostering out their family “treasures” to willing buyers looking to adopt. Also accolades to Dot, Traci, and Ryan Ortelii, who were instrumental this year, as well as the many civic volunteers from Northampton High School.

Last, but certainly not least, was the critical support from the Town of Exmore, including Town Manager Robert Duer, Mayor Doug Greer, and the superb support from our exemplary Exmore Police Department (best on the Shore, in our opinion), and our incredible Public Works Department. Within an hour after the sometimes chaotic event, the town was returned to its pristine condition, and we cannot thank the crew enough for helping to make this event a resounding success.

We look forward to coordinating the Spring Fling Yard Sale along the tracks in May, and again extend our hearty thanks to the many folks who worked very hard this year to host this event.

$100,000 Expenditure Clarified

Dear Editor:

Gerald Stephan read a letter from me at last week’s Wednesday town-hall meeting on the Onancock sewer system. Linda Cicoira cited some of my words in the fine article she wrote for the Post.

I understand that note-taking is difficult under those circumstances. I made it harder for her because I had crammed as many words as I could into the three-minute time allowed. As a result, at least one of the points I made did not read in the article as I had intended — in particular, that $100,000 was spent on a study of the treatment plant, not on the plant itself.
